More Than 40 Killed As Flood Strikes Italy

Authorities Fear Priceless Art Works Ruined; Supply Of Drinking Water Severed

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — The waters of the worst floods in Florence and Venice since the Renaissance art center of the Middle Ages receded today, leaving the two museum cities blackened with mud and without vital public services.

Thousands of rescue workers struggled through slime dotted with debris and stained with fuel oil. Streets became bogs and buildings were coated with mud below the second-floor level.

As the Arno River settled back into its bed at Florence, Adriatic Sea waters flowed out of Venice, other Italian cities remained inundated or became flooded.

Landslides, violent winds and floods — part of a huge storm that battered all Western Europe — took more than 40 lives in Italy alone.

Dozens Missing
The U.S. Embassy in Rome said it had no information about Americans in the flooded areas but added that there was no indication so far that any foreigners were among the victims.

In southern Austria, floods killed at least 11 persons. Dozens were missing and feared dead in the European storm and hundreds were injured. Destruction was incalculable.

As the floods began ebbing at dawn, authorities in Florence the Renaissance art center of the Middle Ages receded today, leaving the two museum cities blackened with mud and without vital public services.

Some 50,000 relief workers, aided by dry weather after almost two days of rain, joined local volunteers to aid more than 100,000 Italians left homeless. The storm struck especially hard at north and central Italy.

Edoardo Cesario, a Florence bank clerk, said the city was standing in so much water that "as I looked down at Florence from a hillside, I thought I was

Captain Faces 18 Charges

$23 Million Kept
In Icebox Due to Lack of Space

TREASURE ISLAND, Calif. (AP) — An icebox in which $23 million in U.S. currency allegedly was stored was a major issue Friday in the court martial of Capt. Archie Kuntze, formerly of Sheboygan, Wis.

Kuntze, 46, who headed a $60 million supply program in Saigon for two years, faces 18 charges of violating official orders, deceiving a naval board of investigation, falsely testifying, and acting in a way unbecoming an officer.

Jannie Suen, 26, a Chinese national, is linked to five of the charges.

The prosecution has said she cannot be found in Saigon.

Kuntze has pleaded innocent to all charges.

The unorthodox method of keeping cash came to light when Lt. Gerald Young, a Navy finance officer, said Kuntze's office was short of help and storage space.

"You were short of places to keep your funds, too," defense counsel Capt. Dan Flynn suggested to Young.

"Yes sir. For a long time we had to store our funds in a cold-storage reefer. At one time, we had some $23 million" in the reefer, Young said.

Kuntze is charged with converting Vietnamese money and military script into U.S. treasury notes.

Levy also ordered Powell to pay a $250 fine.

Powell Gets Jail Sentence In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — An arrest order for Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, sentenced to 30 days in jail for criminal contempt of court, must wait to be issued until after Tuesday's election.

Supreme Court Justice Matthew M. Levy, who found the Harlem Democrat guilty on two contempt counts Friday, ordered the temporary delay.

Powell faces only token opposition from three candidates.

There was speculation from legal experts, however, that Powell could not be arrested outside the state and forced to begin serving the term. His whereabouts were uncertain.

The sentence grew out of Powell's five-year fight to avoid paying a $162,000 libel judgment he owes a Harlem widow. On a television program, Powell called her a "bag woman" or "graft collector for corrupt police."

Levy also ordered Powell to pay a $250 fine.

Disrupted Kennedy Talk

Hecklers Rebuked By Board at UW

MADISON — Several members of the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents Friday sharply rebuked demonstrators who recently disrupted a speech on the campus by U.S. Sen. Edward Kennedy (D-Mass.) and hinted that any such future actions may lead to stiff penalties.

While the president of the Board, Arthur DeBardeleben of Park Falls, urged that the Regents not over-react to the actions of the student and non-student hecklers, some other members implied that such actions in the future be met with discipline that could include expulsion from the University.

"The attitude of the heckling students was not only juvenile, it was disgraceful," said Regent Kenneth Greenquist of Racine.

"They do not deserve to be associated with a university with the heritage of this one. If there are students here who not only wish to shut off their minds, but also all discussion, I suggest they find a university more suitable to their attitude than the University of Wisconsin."

The discussion arose after a statement by UW President Fred Harrington on recent criticisms of University policy regarding the lack of university regulation over the content of speeches given on the campuses of the system, and the associated problems of heckling of speakers by minority elements of audiences.

The discussion was generated by "free universities" being conducted by student groups on the Madison and Milwaukee campuses.

David Lawrence Lingers Near Death Today

Former Governor
Collapses During Pittsburgh Rally

PITTSBURGH (AP) — David L. Lawrence, Democratic kingpin whose behind-the-scenes power helped elect presidents, lingered near death today after suffering a heart attack while addressing a political rally.

Lawrence, 77, former governor of Pennsylvania, was in critical condition in Presbyterian University Hospital.

He slumped to the floor before an audience of some 3,000 Friday night just as he was starting a speech at a Democratic rally in Pittsburgh's Syria Mosque.

The lecturer toppled across his chest. Associates rushed to his side as the audience fell into a stunned silence.

Perhaps the greatest achievement of his life was his role in the

2 Killed as Cruiser Crashes Into Breakwater

CHICAGO (AP) — A 30-foot cabin cruiser has crashed against a breakwater in Lake Michigan on the near North Side, killing two of the four persons aboard.

Dead in the crash Friday night are Arthur Anderson, 57, and Mrs. Louis Schmitt, 57, both of suburban Glenview. Miss Adrienne Sykes, 24, and Lawrence Johnson, 31, both of Chicago, were released from a hospital after treatment for exposure.

The two-door car then went back onto the roadway, skidded sideways for several hundred feet, flipped onto its side while still on the blacktop, broke off a utility pole and came to rest on its wheels on the north side of the road.

U.S. Infantry Hit by Fierce Communist Counterattacks

Youth Dies of Gun Blast

New London Mishap
Takes Life of 17-Year-Old

NEW LONDON — A 17-year-old West Allis youth died at 7:06 a.m. today at Community Hospital from a shotgun wound.

Steven Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Brown, West Allis, was shot in the stomach about 2:25 a.m. today when he took a loaded 410 gauge shotgun by the barrel and swung at a wounded owl on the ground.

Brown was with his cousin and a 15-year-old New London girl at his grandmother's cottage on White Lake Marsh, southwest of New London at the time of the accident. Brown's grandmother is Mrs. Osha Shephard, New London.

Waupaca County Deputy Coroner, Dr. John W. Monsted, said death resulted from internal injuries as a result of the shooting.

Australia Mourns Johnson Surgery

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The news of President Johnson's coming surgery was a shock to Australians, so many of whom saw him on his visit last month.

It was the only item on newspaper billboards in Sydney, and both Sydney afternoon newspapers had black borders around their front-page stories.

The Daily Mirror in an editorial headed "Good luck, LBJ," said: "He is a brave and dutiful man — and now that we Australians have come to know him better we wish him extra luck in the trial that lies before him."

"We hope that LBJ comes all the way through."

Calls Nixon 'Chronic Campaigner'

GOP Reacts Sharply To Attack by Johnson

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have reacted sharply to President Johnson's slashing attack on Richard M. Nixon — the man often mentioned as a possible contender for the presidency in 1968.

Employing former President Harry S. Truman's familiar "give 'em hell" tactics, Johnson told a televised news conference Friday that Nixon is a "chronic campaigner" who "doesn't serve his country well" by raising doubts about American intentions in Viet Nam.

The former vice president promptly accused Johnson of making "a personal, partisan assault" in a "shocking display of temper." Nixon said he would make a more detailed reply to Johnson on nationwide television Sunday.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said Johnson's remarks were "a vicious personal attack" on Nixon. In a statement issued through his Washington office,

Americans Take Enemy Bunkers In Tay Ninh Province Battle

SAIGON (AP) — Communist troops counterattacked viciously today against a large American infantry force that had overrun enemy bunkers in the canopied jungles near Cambodia as the battle for Tay Ninh Province entered its third day.

Pitched battles have erupted in three places in the past three days in the province which borders Cambodia and serves as a main infiltration route into the heart of Viet Nam.

The pattern of enemy attacks indicated a whole Communist division may be engaged.

In the air war over North Viet Nam, two more U.S. war planes were downed Friday, bringing the total reported lost in the north to 418, a U.S. spokesman said.

No Letup
There was no letup in the Tay Ninh fighting today, a spokesman said. Several battalions of American infantrymen holding the Communist bunker complex they overran Friday were attacked six times this morning and early afternoon.

A civilian irregular defense force comprised mainly of Nung tribesmen and their American officers was still fighting for its life to the west.

A U.S. spokesman said "multi-brigades" of Americans are now involved in the Tay Ninh fighting. This could be as many as 10,000 infantrymen.

There was speculation in Saigon that the Communist thrust in Tay Ninh, first detected Thursday when an "eagle flight" of helicopter-borne troops from the U.S. 25th Division spotted Communist troops in bivouac, might be the much-rumored attempt to score a victory against American forces prior to the Nov. 8 elections in the United States.

Elsewhere in Viet Nam, the ground was quiet, with only the U.S. 4th Division reporting any contact.

Troops from this unit engaged a North Vietnamese platoon today near Plei Djereng, killing six.

The pace was fast over North Viet Nam where U.S. Air Force and Navy planes are taking advantage of a break in the weeks of bad weather. U.S. spokesman reported that U.S. pilots have flown 607 missions over North Viet Nam in the past four days, a record for this period of time.

A total of 155 missions was flown Friday against lines of communication, storage and staging areas, and military and naval targets.

Eight U.S. servicemen perished and 14 others were injured Friday night in a flash fire aboard the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt off North Viet Nam. A Navy spokesman said the fire caused no functional problems and the carrier will stay on station in the Gulf of Tonkin. It was the second U.S. carrier fire in 10 days.

Pravda Calls for

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party paper Pravda called today for all people to unite and increase their efforts to end the Viet Nam war and get American troops withdrawn immediately from South Viet Nam.

Passes Halfway Mark

East-West Harmony at U.N. Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly passed the halfway mark today of a session notable for its rare atmosphere of East-West harmony.

The Soviet Union, apparently anxious to avoid any hitch that might hold up the signing of treaties on halting the spread of nuclear weapons and the peaceful use of outer space, has been restrained in its approach to all issues.

Even the annual debate on disarmament, usually the springboard for a Soviet tirade against the United States, generated little heat. In his opening speech on the arms question, Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko devoted only a paragraph to Viet Nam and this appeared to be a token gesture.

Counterblast
At one point in the debate, William C. Foster, U.S. chief arms negotiator, took a swipe at the Soviet bloc for accusing West Germany of seeking to acquire a nuclear arsenal.

Delegates braced themselves for a Red counterblast but when Fedorenko took the floor he merely urged quick conclusion of a nonproliferation treaty.

In the Security Council, where the Soviets have long used their veto power as a cold war weapon, Fedorenko cast the 104th Soviet veto Friday but he used it to kill a resolution dealing with the Syrian-Israeli dispute, thus reflecting the Soviet Union's Middle East policy rather than any jibe against the West.

The resolution, a mildly worded compromise, invited Syria to strengthen its measures to prevent border incidents. The vote was 10-4 with the Soviet's negative vote as a permanent council member constituting a big power veto.

Two Exceptions
Otherwise, there have been only two exceptions to the new Communist image of sweetness and light.

Cuba has continued to denounce the United States as an aggressor bent on robbing the Western Hemisphere nations of their freedom, but it has done so without the usual support from the Soviet bloc. Albania, as ex-

The POWER of FAITH

In his paintings Fra Angelico has expressed his faith for all to see for the past 500 years. Of all the Italian Renaissance painters Fra Angelico was truly divinely inspired. In his lifetime churches and cathedrals vied for his works. He gave his pictures of the life of Christ and other religious paintings a fresh beauty and new meaning.

Very little is known of Fra Angelico's origin. His Christian name was Guido and he was also known as Fra Giovanni di Fiesole. He was 20 when he received the habit of the Dominican order. The name Fra Angelico (meaning angelic) was given him because of his devout piety. It has been told that he never picked up a brush until he had prayed for guidance. He believed that God guided his brush. He knelt as he painted the Madonna and wept each time he painted the crucifixion. For over a hundred years the accepted image of an angel has been that of one of Fra Angelico's. Both in his gentle life and in his art he has given us a rich spiritual heritage.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I must tell you the different ways I use my beautiful punch bowl all year round.
In the spring, we have it on our coffee table with bright artificial red grapes or cherries heaped in and falling over its edge.
In the summer, we have gay sherbert and ginger ale punch parties for thirsty children on hot nights; or fill it with assorted summer fruits in season and watermelon balls for a colorful and tasty dessert after a backyard barbecue.

Heloise
In fall, I heap it with small pumpkins, berries, nuts and assorted colored gourds for a centerpiece in front of our fireplace.
Best of all is Christmas season when we bring out our favorite red and gold Christmas balls and fill the bowl. On Christmas Eve we take each ball from the bowl to hang on the tree...then wash the bowl and fill with eggnog to toast the season.
Gloomy January and February brings warmth from the bowl with warm cocoa and marshmallows served from it to freezing little Cub Scouts or Brownies.
So you see, I wouldn't be without my precious punch bowl. It has become part of the family and much to beautiful to hide away. Joan Horden.
Dear Joan:
Beautiful things are to be seen, appreciated, and enjoyed. Why buy lovely items for the home and hide them away where they can't be seen?

There is no one more deserving to enjoy beautiful things than our own families.
I think the year-round use of your punch bowl is wonderful and I know that your family and friends enjoy it. Love, Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I found a good use for bath towels that have become frayed at the edges.
On rainy days, I lay one over our door mat and fold under the ends to fit the mat. This not only does a better job than the mat alone, but is safer than the cotton rug I once used. Mrs. G.B.G.

Dear Heloise:
For those who have the same problem I have — struggling to get the tops off cottage cheese cartons — here is the answer.
Have you ever thought of using the bottle opener end of your can opener? This is very handy. You merely open it like a bottle.
I am a 12-year-old who loves cottage cheese, and it really works. Joy Hartnett

Dear Heloise:
I use my receiving blankets on my baby bed.
I spread it over the sheet at the top of the crib. This gives him protection from the cold plastic mattress in winter absorbs his perspiration in summer, and absorbs drools and spit-ups.
Using the receiving blanket makes wash day much easier as the sheet needs changing less often — just change the blanket. It protects their tender skin from the rough sheet as they scoot around or toss and turn their little heads, and you obtain much more use out of your receiving blankets. Bycki (Copyright, 1966) the way I played the hand." A good statement, even if it wasn't true.

Declarer lost the first trick to the king of clubs. East returned the nine of diamonds, and dummy's queen won.

In danger of losing a club, two diamonds and a heart, declarer drew trumps and led a low heart from dummy, losing the queen to the ace. West returned a low heart, and South had to guess who held the jack. South reasoned that West had more hearts than East and was therefore more likely to hold the jack. He therefore tried a finesse with dummy's ten. East won and returned a diamond, and South was down two.

Against Percentage
South's play was against percentage. There was no need to risk a loss to the doubleton jack of hearts.

After winning the second trick with the queen of diamonds South should draw trumps with the ace and king so that he can lead hearts from his own hand. He leads the six to dummy's

Your Problems Woman Needs Professional Aid To Stop Her Dishonest Habit

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: A member of my husband's family has been stealing things from our home for over a year.

It used to be a few small items like a guest towel or an ash tray. Now it is money from the dresser drawer, trading stamps and jewelry. Several members of the family are aware of the problem because the woman has done the same thing at their homes. Outside of hanging on to our purses and wallets when she is around nobody has said much.

We have discussed the problem with her husband but he says we are making up lies because we don't like her. Please tell us what to do. Her children are lovely and we don't want to bar her from our homes because they will have to be told the reason and we'd rather die than tell them their mother is a thief. — Worried king and returns a heart, losing the queen to the ace.

Dear Worried: Someone

As the cards lie, East's jack shows up and the rest is easy. But it would be just as easy if East held two small hearts instead of J-x.

In this case, West would win the second round of hearts but would be unable to make a safe return. If West led a heart, dummy's ten would get a trick; and if West led anything else he would have to give South a trick with the lead.

— even following her from room to room when she visits. But please don't tell her children.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This past year our parents decided that we are going to be the "All-American Family" and the keynote is togetherness. We are three teen-age girls, 15, 17 and 19. Our folks insist that we all go places together. This means to the beach, to the movies, theater, concerts, sports events. It is embarrassing for us to go to some of these places with our parents because we keep running into our friends who have dates.

We don't want to hurt Mom's and Dad's feelings because we know they are doing it for our good. But it is a terrible problem. Can you think of an out? — Too Much Togetherness

Dear Too Much: Your parents' efforts to be an All-American family are a little late—like several years.

It's wonderful for families to do things together but you gals should have developed your own social life by this time. Work on it, and then, by necessity, you will find yourself cutting down on nights out with the folks.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I fell in love with my boss 12 years ago while working as a secretary in his office. Now I see another woman doing exactly the same thing.

My husband's secretary is ten years younger than I am—married to a nondescript character who probably bores her to death. She has no children. We have three. I'm sure my husband is unaware of the clever way she is worming her way into his life. She phones him at home to remind him of things he should do. She drops things off at the house, invites herself in for a cocktail and then stays for dinner. She asks him how he likes her new hair-do and needs his help to remove a sliver from her finger.

I've tried to ignore the situation but on low days I'm sorely tempted to tell her off. I pray for the forbearance and strength to keep my mouth shut. Please help me. — Shook Cookie

Dear Shook: You are in a better position to give your husband love and emotional support than this little shrewdly. If you make home a wonderful place to be, he'll be there. If you don't you can look for him at the office.

Does someone you love drink too much? What can you do about it? For some forthright answers, get the booklet "Alcoholism — Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1966)

Pedestrians Violate Law

Appleton's 1965 pedestrian safety program appraisal was received from the American Automobile Association (AAA) this week and gives the city a 68-point rating, a mark which reflects a slightly better than average record on the basis of 125 cities with 50,000 to 100,000 population participating in the reporting.

For the most part, Appleton showed improvement in every category of the pedestrian program scoring, including 100 per cent marks for keeping accident records and having good legislation which promotes safety for the pedestrian and driver as well.

The city made its most noticeable gains in traffic engineering where it received a 94-point rating as compared to the national average of 72. Actually, because of the outstanding traffic engineering work accomplished here, the city was able to raise its grade 18 points over the 1964 rating.

However, with the sweet came the sour — the latter falling in the category of enforcement of laws pertaining to pedestrians. Appleton was far below the national group performance standard for enforcement, and the main recommendation contained in the report of the AAA needs no explanation.

It states: "More emphasis should be given in your enforcement program to pedestrian violations. Studies show consistently that in 70 per cent of all accidents, pedestrians were either in violation or had committed some unsafe walking practice."

The police department, city officials and the walking public should take it from there.

American Education Week

Every week has a variety of silly titles that are best to ignore. But American Education Week is worth noting. The system of free public education, combined with some amount of choice in educational facilities for parents, has been one of the major causes of the development of the United States.

Like almost every other institution, education runs into problems often of its own making. Its professionals get set in their ways and resist change. But it is important to realize that American education has changed tremendously in our history and is constantly undergoing and responding to new pressures for change. Once education in the classics and theology was considered the only kind possible beyond the eighth or tenth or twelfth grade. Then vocational aptitudes became important. Women's education changed from domestic matters to merely copying that of men. As our technical discoveries have been made and in this age of the computer, the tremendous importance of technical education has finally been realized. But along with this has come a new realization that there is also an ever-growing need for education in philosophy and the liberal arts so we can better understand and teach others what the business of living may be all about.

The United States borrowed many educational ideas from other countries but now the trend has been reversed. The American ideal of educational opportunities on an equal basis for all, dependent only upon individual abilities and ambitions, is being increasingly accepted in Europe and Asia.

Obviously education has not solved all the problems of mankind — in some ways it may seem to have created more. It cannot completely make up for deprivations at home. Its toughest role often comes when it deals with ethics and morality. Its impact is subject to human failings.

But on the whole American education has been successful and influential far beyond the wildest imaginations of those who started it all. As one American president put it, "next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither freedom nor justice can be permanently maintained."

The Language of Diplomacy

Diplomacy is a fascinating business. In our current dealings with the Soviet Union, it is not what is said that is as important as what is not being said.

Russian Communist Party leader Leonid Brezhnev made a speech this week and said that Russian aid to North Viet Nam would continue. But he did not demand the withdrawal of American troops or even a halt in the bombing raids over the North. Instead he even said that "we are firmly convinced that cooperation in the interests of peace and international security is also possible with those Western governments and political figures who look soberly on the international situation and who are ready to follow in practice the principles of peaceful coexistence of states with different social systems." Then he went on to lambast the Red Chinese, the Red Guards and seemed far less concerned about insulting Peking — or opening himself to Chinese charges of deviation — than the West.

However, drawing any hopeful conclusions from this one speech is a dangerous matter. In September, when Foreign Minister Gromyko was at the United Nations, he was particularly hard on the United States involvement in Viet Nam although he later visited the White House. Only last week Premier Kosygin said that all sorts of Russian aid would go to Hanoi until the "imperialist" aggression halted. It may be that the Russians are taking a leaf from the American book, whereby one official speaks of peace and negotiation and another simultaneously announces an increase in the number of troops and the number of bombs.

Presumably the Russians do not want any larger war either. They would like better ties to the West for economic reasons. They see the Eastern European satellites drawing further away, at least in the economic sphere, and know that nothing short of Russian tanks can end the trend. The war does give the Soviet Union an opportunity to picture the United States at least in as dark colors as were splashed on the Russians when they moved missiles into Cuba. Russia can now urge Hanoi to be somewhat more flexible, as it is rumored has been the case in recent weeks, with the knowledge that the American terms at present for peace are virtually unacceptable. And the war also permits the Russians to blame the Chinese for something else, both a failure to support Hanoi to the fullest and to allow rapid transport of Russian aid.

But certainly the Russians do not want to expand the war for fear they might be put on the spot to come more actively to Hanoi's aid. With this in mind it is reasonable why they may be toning down the charges against the United States.

Brezhnev's speech is an easy one to amend. If a tougher line develops, he can easily infer that acceptable Western nations are those like France which is as critical of American influence in Asia and Europe as is the Soviet Union.

Another possibility can be read into the latest high level Russian speech. The Johnson Administration has — wisely in our opinion — encouraged increased trade relations between Communist countries of Europe and the United States. Brezhnev would not want to give too much weight to the charges in the United States that increased trade will virtually supply Russia and its satellites with the aid they are forwarding to North Viet Nam.

The omissions in public pronouncements work both ways. In all his speeches in Asia and upon his return home, President Johnson never attempted to tie the Soviet Union to the Communist aggression in the Far East which he insists that the United States must halt.

Looking Backward

Voters Surrender to Truth

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for Nov. 15, 1866.

The election just passed in this country has astonished both Republicans and Democrats by its results.

If we put forth the best possible face in the matter for the Democracy, they are found not to have to-day a real county majority of more than 125. We have no disposition to indulge in boisterous and offensive triumph over this wonderful gain. On the contrary, our impulse is to thank the people of the towns outside the city, who have so far overcome their old Democratic feelings and views to vote in this struggle for the nation and against the treasonable usurpations of the ignorant and bad man, who, filling the place of Lincoln, has knowingly, willingly, and furiously put himself forward as leader of the rebellion of the southern aristocracy.

It is much — very much — for men to cut loose from old party ties, even when their judgment is enlightened and convinced. Prejudice and habit bear down mightily to overpower reason.

But this surrender to truth has been made by some hundreds of members of the old Democratic party during the campaign now so happily ended.

Saturday, Nov. 1, 1941.

The United States Navy that day announced that 44 enlisted men were rescued from the torpedoed destroyer Reuben James, leaving 76 members of the ship's company unaccounted for. It was hoped that more may have made it to shore to Iceland, since the ship was equipped with two motor-driven whaleboats and many life rafts and preservers.

Appleton Newcomers Club were planning a Thanksgiving party at the YMCA. Hostesses included Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lein, co-chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Schnorr, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Otte.

Embattled ANGOLA

Portugal has 40,000 troops in Angola, its rich African territory surrounded by black-ruled nations. The Congo has broken relations with Portugal, and admits harboring anti-Portuguese rebel groups. Border incursions from the Congo and Zambia are reported increasing.

Strife Between Angola and Congo Provides African Tinder Box

BY DENNIS REDMONT

LISBON, PORTUGAL (AP) — Angola, Portugal's richest African territory, is keeping a close watch on developments in its neighbor, the Congo, for a possible increase in terrorist infiltration.

Congolese Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko admitted before the United Nations Security Council that his country harbored anti-Portuguese rebel groups. In turn, the Congo charges that European mercenaries refuted in Angola are helping rebel elements in the Congo.

Late in September, Congolese demonstrators sacked and burned the Portuguese embassy in Kinshasa (formerly Leopoldville). Early in October the Congo broke diplomatic relations with Portugal.

RICH COUNTRY

Angola has been the apple of Lisbon's eye since the first Portuguese explorers landed in the Congo 450 years ago, searching for Prestre John's legendary empire.

Extending 1,000 miles along the west coast of Africa, from the mouth of the Congo River to the arid wastes of South-West Africa, Angola is rich in oil, diamonds, coffee, sugar, tobacco and cotton. Its shores yield a respectable take of fish and its swift rivers are gradually being harnessed.

Standing squarely in the Congo's way to the sea, Angola plays a vital part in the development and extraction of Katanga's vast mining riches.

The British-owned Benguela Railway runs from the port of Lobito into the heart of the Congo-Katanga district. It is the shortest outlet for copper, aluminum, manganese, cobalt, zinc and iron ores of the region. The eastern end is in Mozambique, also Portuguese territory.

Control of this railroad and virtual possession of the Congo River's mouth between the Angola mainland and the little enclave of Cabinda, puts Portugal in a unique position to control Congolese traffic, a foreign ministry official claims.

There is no doubt President Joseph Mobutu of the Congo will do some hard thinking before severing relations with Portugal, he adds.

About 40,000 Portuguese troops are braced to prevent any recurrence of the bloody massacres of 1961.

HIDE IN FORESTS

Most of the terrorism has taken place in the northern region, where two rival Congolese rebel movements, the UPA and the MPLA, hide out in thick forests.

The attacks are by mines set along the roads, or by sudden ambushes. But to add to Portuguese defense problems, a new front has opened near the border of Zambia, where Portugal claims MPLA terrorists are operating. Detachments have been rushed to the eastern region of Cazombo.

About 80 soldiers have died of various causes since the beginning of the year. This compares to last year's figure of 136.

Portugal, which denies harboring any mercenaries in camps to attack the Congo, has made a counterclaim, that the Congo not only houses rebels, but allows Soviet and Chinese arms to enter the country.

FLED TO CONGO

Portugal denies rebel claims that some of its soldiers were killed during a clash in the enclave of Cabinda. The Portuguese said the rebels fled back into the Congo, leaving behind explosives and weapons of Communist origin.

Defense in Africa costs Portugal 42 per cent of its national budget. A special credit of 52.6 million escudos ($17.4 million) was allotted to Angola in September. New industry, including a $65 million contract for iron extraction, signed by West Germany's Krupp, is sprouting in Angola.

The coffee crop rose last year to third place in the world, with the United States importing more than half the quantity.

A new $35 million dam at Cambambe, considered to be second only to Egypt's Aswan Dam, is already supplying power to part of the territory.

Portugal considers the five million people of Angola, including 250,000 whites, as Portuguese citizens, with the same legal rights as anyone in Portugal. The territory is named a province.

Campaign Coverage
Clouds Struggle for Control of Legislature

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — How many of the more thoughtful voters have become utterly bored long before the end of the political party campaigns by the dreadful monotony of the appeals of the politicians and their reliance upon the saturation techniques of the soap promoter?

How much of the electoral indifference about which the his rewards were credited, according to the attendance he could arrange at the major appearance of the state party commander in his town. That leader's speech, moreover, was a major effort, sometimes lasting half an hour, sometimes an hour, according to the mood of the audience and the schedule of the day. Reporters trailing along "covered" the speech, which meant that they sat in the audience, listened, and reported.

Occasionally there was a parade, with a band playing and banners waving. Local chiefs talked policy and program with the leader into the late night hours. There was an air of excitement, of struggle, of power to be won or lost, of good causes triumphant and evil forces defeated. Even allowing for the probably impressionable character of a youthful auditor, the campaign atmosphere of today is a flavorless one in contrast.

PRESSING FLESH

Today the candidate marches in and out of public places on the main street, pressing the flesh, in the original description of the President of the United States, uttering small pleasantries, while professional publicity men at distant headquarters grind out the routine press release for the day and hire the increasingly high cost advertising media for their image making.

The physical appearance, the grip of the outstretched hand, the smile are the chief tools of the campaigner while the confident and calculating professionals at the headquarters conduct their polls and peruse their responses as a means not only to determine what to say, but where to say it, and how. Implicit in today's campaign style is the idea that if the candidate behaves himself, and shakes enough hands, he can collect votes without regard to his experience, competence, program or purpose.

Some of the melancholy observers of the mechanization of today's campaign styles have wondered how Mr. Lincoln would run as a candidate for public office in 1966. Probably not very well. His advertising agency would object because the warts would show on the screen. Yes, my young friend, campaign styles have changed, and regrettably. If there are increasing numbers of men and women who are bored, perhaps the are not to be blamed. It is an unflattering business, however it is regarded.

political scientists and others mutter their biennial platitudes is actually a form of revolt against the tiresome and unflattering puerilities of the men and women who aspire to public leadership?

This reporter is probably betraying the inevitable fatigue of a long campaign season — one of the genuine innovations in politics of the 1960s has been the stretching of the campaigns over longer periods — but a strong impression as this vote court-ing period ends is that the art of politics has degenerated into mere huckstering.

The other day in a city in central Wisconsin this survivor of many campaign seasons encountered a young reporter acquaintance, making his first tour with a candidate for the governorship. What were his impressions? He was disappointed. The experience was not nearly as interesting and inspiring as he had imagined from college lectures and textbooks. It was a succession of trips up and down the street, mostly handshaking and passing out leaflets.

THEN AND NOW

I recalled my own first experience of the kind a couple of decades earlier. Then as now there was an incumbent governor, an energetic fellow who was not entirely sure of his position in the estimation of the electorate and who was determined to put into a re-election campaign all the energy at his command. There were two, sometimes three major speeches on each day's calendar. Always there was a rally at night of considerable size. The stature of the local chieftain was measured, and

Money Which Comes From Washington Is Not Free

Editor, Post-Crescent:

From the political advertising on TV and in the press, it appears that Dr. Kagen of Appleton, and Congressman John Race of Fond du Lac, both running for Congress, are pulling the same string for votes in the coming election. They would have it, that seeing they are Democrats, if elected could get more federal money for Wisconsin than the Republicans could. It no doubt is a good pull for votes, as many voters think that federal money dished out to the states is free money, when in reality federal money is the people's money derived from people's taxes, and will be paid for by the tax payers and not Santa Claus. Anyone that has been paying taxes for the past 30 years knows that, and what's more federal tax we use the ore federal tax we use the more federal controls we will have.

Like Lt. Gov. Patrick Lucey, we see that Congressman Race, 6th District, has, on the home stretch of his campaign, resorted to the old gadget, used so successfully by the Democrats to pry loose the farmer and the laboring man votes, — the tax issue. His plan is to "bleed the rich a little more, to feed the poor", or as we might say today, help finance the L.B.J. poverty program.

Anyone that pays taxes knows well that the higher a person's income is the higher is the percentage of taxes. Also that the one with the ability to pay, as former Gov. John Reynolds used to say, is paying far more than his share of our taxes. Under our capitalistic system, we all realize that there is and has been great accumulations of wealth and learning, but let us not forget that when the capitalist passes on, he will take nothing with him, any more than the poor person, but will leave their vast accumulations of wealth and learning to the coming generations, to make a better country to live in, and to serve the Lord.

Ford did not take his car, Rockefeller did not take his oil, Deer did not take his plow, etc. What would our churches and schools do today without the support of the rich? So it is only reasonable to believe that Mr. Race' tax plan to bleed the rich a little more to cultivate poverty could be considered a gesture in the wrong direction.

Has Advice for Those Who Believe in Broken Promises

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Before the Texan sat on his vacation, he stated people never had it so good. Of course he did not mention the great increase in crime, the strikes, the soaring cost of living, the powder kegs in our cities, the increase in draft calls, the return of wooden boxes from Viet Nam, filled with our best youth.

If everything is so hunky dory why does Bobby, Eddy and Humpty have to scurry from one state and city to another day after day? Why does he feel he has to hurry back and help out?

Patrick Lucey is trying the same approach. If Knowles can do it, I can do it better. Yes he even promises to give us oleo instead of butter. This promise he is sure to keep.

Congressman Race can bring a boy to attend his father's funeral. How about those that will come back in boxes?

If you believe in broken promises, vote Democratic.

campuses of the UW. "They are neither free nor universities," Harrington pointed out.

The heckling took place during a recent Kennedy visit sponsored by the UW Young Democrats. Kennedy was to speak at the UW Stock Pavilion in Madison in support of the gubernatorial candidacy of Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey, but was drowned out by constant heckling from the first line of his prepared address. The outcries came from a very small portion of the audience of about 4,500 gathered to hear the brother of the late President John F. Kennedy.

The Regents Friday gave indications that the discussion has not been ended on the subject, and that some future action may be forthcoming due to the disruption of the Kennedy address.

Harrington told the Regents that a special faculty committee studying the codification of University by-laws has been asked to investigate the problems of free speech and heckling and to report in December to the faculty.

In other actions, the Regents approved:

—The transfer of the campus and a sister school in Kenosha County out of the UW Center System and to independent status.

—Accepted over $4.7 million in gifts and grants offered the UW during the past month.

—Heard ten persons, including Assemblyman Lawrence Johnson of Algoma, describe and endorse services of the University of Wisconsin Extension ranging from traditional agricultural services to inner core projects in metropolitan areas and telephonic lecture systems for hospitals of the state.

seeing the Grand Canal of Venice."

Grosseto, a coastal city of 47,000 south of Florence, was covered by up to nine feet of water. Its only link outside was an airport, to which bread was being flown from other cities.

Trento in the north was hit by fresh floods overnight. They caused chemical explosions in vacant industrial plants, interrupted electrical power and cut the drinking water supply.

Firemen rescued 150 children isolated at a nursery school by the Tagliamento River in northern Italy. The river forced evacuation of 10 communities.

Roads and rail links were impassable all across Italy, almost cutting the north from the south. Trains from Milan to Rome followed a route of more than 800 miles, double the normal distance, weaving back and forth across the country to avoid flooded areas.

Florence went into its second day without drinking water, electricity or telephone service. The flood there was said to be the worst since 1270.

Army units reached Florence at daybreak after they were halted overnight by water several miles outside the city. A special train was to try to reach the city today from Pistoia, 18 miles to the northwest. Food was in short supply in Florence and bakers in suburban areas above the water level worked tirelessly to produce bread.

Two-thirds of Florence's area was under 6 to 10 feet of water from the Arno River. Many families forced out of first-floor flats were unable to get to shelter in public buildings and spent a chilly night on their roofs.

The first floor of the famed Uffizi Gallery was inundated. Unconfirmed reports said more than 8,000 paintings kept in the basement were damaged. Water endangered the famous Fra Angelico frescoes in St. Mark's Monastery and poured into the Florence Cathedral.

Kennedy polled a 300,000-vote plurality in the state.

Lawrence was an early backer of every Democratic nominee for president from 1928 on. In 1932, he helped engineer the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Lawrence was elected mayor of Pittsburgh four times, leaving City Hall in 1958 to run for governor.

Doctors said Lawrence's heart stopped twice Friday night and that both times he was clinically dead.

When he collapsed, a doctor stepped up from the audience and massaged Lawrence's heart. A nurse gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. The second heart stoppage occurred at the hospital.

The prosecution has said the veteran of three wars also sent enlisted men to Thailand and Hong Kong to purchase silks for him. These were sold, the prosecution claims, for profit or given to Miss Suen.

Prosecutor Capt. Joseph E. Ross has told the panel that Kuntze lived "openly and notoriously in his official quarters" with Miss Suen.

Ross told the board of three admirals and six captains that Miss Suen was allowed to make "repeated and notorious use" of a government car.

Kuntze, a graduate of the Naval Academy in 1942, has been an officer of 24 years. He was awarded the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart medals during World War II and the Korean War.

He was decorated twice by the Vietnamese government during the present conflict.

Schulz' Halloween treat, along with a Lucille Ball special, "Lucy in London," topped weekly favorites "Jackie Gleason" and "Bonanza."

The seventh week of the new season marked the third straight session that "Bonanza" failed to capture No. 1. Previous to this year, that NBC stalwart could be expected to dominate the ratings about 80 per cent of the time. After leading the list the first two weeks this season, "Bonanza" has managed only one other top spot.

Of the five network films offered each week, three were in the top 20. Again, however, the new shows suffered, though an improvement was noted. This time, two of the new series were in the top 20, with "Family Affair" replacing "Rat Patrol" as the most popular freshman entry. "Family Affair" was No. 8; "Rat Patrol" No. 20. The latter, though, had been expected to slip entirely from the top listings because of the "Lucy in London" special as competition, but it did manage to hold on.

"ABC Stage 67," a rating and often critical failure, had a week off and the network had high hopes the long-awaited Tony Bennett special would make noise. It failed to make the top 20.

The complete top 20:
1 — "It's the Great Pumpkin, Charlie Brown"; 2 — "Lucy in London"; 3 — "Jackie Gleason"; 4 — "Bonanza"; 5 — "Green Acres"; 6 — "Red Skelton"; 7 — "Peyton Place"; 8 — "Family Affair"; 9 — "Ed Sullivan"; 10 — "Thursday Night Movie"; ("All in a Night's Work"); 11 — "Tuesday Night Movie"; ("For Love or Money"); 12 — "Dean Martin"; 13 — "Beverly Hillsbillies"; 14 — "Gomer Pyle"; 15 — "Lawrence Welk"; 16 — "Hogan's Heroes"; 17 — "Friday Night Movie"; ("Gidget Goes to Rome"); 18 — "Hollywood Palace"; 19 — "Gunsmoke"; 20 — "Rat Patrol".

6:30-7:30 — Channels 2-7-12 — Junior league anthropologists will appreciate "Dr. Leakey and the Dawn of Man," the first of this season's National Geographic Specials. Other viewers, less concerned about rocks and fossils, should also be drawn into the drama of this carefully filmed documentary which traces the 40-year search for and discovery of the ancestors of modern man in East Africa. Prominent attention is given Dr. Louis Leakey, a silvery maned scientist who African natives call "a black man with a white man's face," as he and his wife, Mary, sift the layers of the Tanzania Olduvai Gorge. Somehow, their discovery that man has existed for more than a million years is overshadowed by their great love for one another and for their beloved Africa. Alexander Scourby is the narrator.

6:30-7 — Channels 4-5 — Flipper has some fun and large lead by grabbing 13 of the top 20 slots, including eight of the first 10. ABC held steady at four and NBC slipped to three.

The CBS situation comedy has remained the primary stumbling block for opposition networks. The old standbys — "Green Acres," "Beverly Hillsbillies," "Gomer Pyle," "Hogan's Heroes" — along with long-time favorites "Jackie Gleason," "Red Skelton," "Ed Sullivan," "Gunsmoke" and, of course, Lucy, have proven more than ABC and NBC can bear.

CBS, in fact, is so pleased that it has dropped its plans for a "second season." NBC is not certain along those lines as yet, but ABC is contemplating a massive change in January.

Only Sunday and Monday nights appear secure in ABC plans. After that, it's a free for all. Several shows have already been given everything but last rites, including "The Rounders," "The Man Who Never Was," "Hawk," "Milton Berle," "12 O'Clock High" and "Shane." Also watch for possible time changes for "Pruitts of Southamption," "Peyton Place II," "Stage 67," "Love on a Rooftop," "Dating Game" and several others.

Guitarist-Singer Count Stanislaus de Rota, 23, known on the continent as the "Pop Prince," leaves Rome for Turin, Italy to join Romina Power, 15, actress daughter of film stars Linda Christian and the late Tyrone Power. Miss Power stated earlier in London that she wants to marry the singer. (AP Wirephoto) suspense with "Moby Dick." Centers of attention are Bud and an old salt (George Ebeling) in a dream sequence in which they relive the Herman Melville whale hunting drama. Catch is, before it's over Bud's dim-eyed pal thinks Flipper is the great white whale!

6:30-7:30 — Channels 11-6-9 — Shame on Shane "Poor Tom's A-Cold" is a shameful tear-jerker. You've got to muster all your sympathy for Robert Duval, a sodbuster gone wacky. The man's a real troublemaker, after he loses his cows and grip on life. He takes to the hills and it's up to David Carradine to fetch him.

7:30-8 — Channels 4-5 — Get Smart brings back its Harry Hoo character for another romp. Once more, Joey Forman is funny as the dim-witted, sly inspector. He and Don Adams join forces on a deserted Pacific island fighting KAOS, volcanos and man-eating vines.

8-9 — Channels 2-7-12 — Mission: Impossible tackles Mafia-like villains in an interesting, fast-paced melodrama reminiscent of the old Untouchables episodes. William Smith plays a crime lord who holds a pretty girl for ransom so he can bargain for a defector Joe Mantell plays the man he wants, a key witness who knows sooner or later he will be "rubbed out."

8:10-15 — Channels 4-5 — "Roman Holiday" on Saturday Night at the Movies is highly recommended for all romantics and admirers of Audrey Hepburn and Gregory Peck. William Wyler's 1953 film casts the two as a princess and a newspaperman who are drawn together for an eventful tour of Rome. In a role which won Miss Hepburn an Oscar, the actress shines as an intelligent innocent exploring a new world.

8:30-9:30 — Channels 11-6-9 — Dale Robertson, hero of The Iron Horse, rides in to host The Hollywood Palace singing and dancing to (what else?) "I've Been Working on the Railroad." Other treats-of-sorts: country-western singers The Stoneman Family, comics The Greezinslaw Brothers, Scottish comedian Don Sanders, dancer Barrie Chase, comedian Jack Carter and singer Morgana King.

9-10:30 — Channels 2-7-12 — The Miss Teenage America Pageant parades 64 young ladies in Dallas. Their object: smile brightly, see if they can out-wit, out-smart and out-charm one another to win a $10,000 college scholarship. Bud Collyer is riding master, on-stage hosts are Marilyn Van Derbur (a former Miss America) and Allen Ludden; special guest is Mike Douglas who will sing, "My Little Girl." Also on hand are the Singing Cadets of Texas A&M University who will serenade them with "I Enjoy Being a Girl."

Appleton's Bond Debt To Reach $22,368,000

The City of Appleton will have a record bonded indebtedness of $22,368,000 in mid-November after the city council approves the latest request for school construction.

Opening bids on a proposed $1.9 million bond issue to finance construction of a new Highlands Elementary School and an addition to Huntley School will take place Nov. 15.

The council will meet Nov. 16 to take a final vote on the proposed general obligation bond sale.

City finance department records show $12,545,162 of the city's debt is attributed to school construction while there are outstanding bonds amounting to $9,822,838 for all other city purposes.

Payment Totals

Finance Director Henry Schreve has informed the council that principal and interest payments on the total indebtedness will amount to $3,400,000 during the coming year. That much has been included in the 1967 city budget reviewed by the council Wednesday night.

Earlier this year Appleton had an AA bond rating with two of the country's leading financial rating firms.

However, with floating a $5 million bond issue for a new high school the rating was dropped to a less favorable A rating by one firm.

Concern Expressed

Mayor George Buckley has expressed concern over the city's financial position and its long-term debt.

The mayor said Wednesday that is why he is giving full support to the recommended 1967 finance committee budget which calls for total spending of $15.3 million and a tax levy of $7.8 million.

A breakdown of the proposed levy allocates $4,349,540 for public school purposes and $3,244,560 for all other city operations.

Townships attached to the Appleton school district pay about 12 per cent of the school levy.

U. S. 41 Crash Hospitalizes Neenah Man

Clifford Kieliszewski Sustains Head, Face Injuries as Car Rolls

NEENAH — Clifford Kieliszewski, 20, 291 Crestview Ave., received serious injury early this morning when the small foreign car he was driving rolled over on U.S. 41, three miles south of Neenah.

Winnebago County Sheriff's department reports said Kieliszewski was driving south on 41, when his car went onto the shoulder, swung back across the highway into the northbound lane, rolled over once and landed back upon its wheels.

The driver was taken to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital at 1:20 a.m. today. He suffered a broken jaw, possible skull fracture and loss of teeth. Theda Clark reported later this morning that his condition is good and further X-rays are being made.

State Planners Pick Appleton for 1967 Conference

The Association of Wisconsin Planners will hold its next annual conference in Appleton in April, 1967, Arno Haering, secretary of the state-wide group and assistant director of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, said today.

Appleton was selected as the conference site by the association's executive board.

"Water Resources" will be the theme of the conference. The program will be concerned with sources, uses, and demand for water, along with necessary requirements for wise management.

Haering and Eugene Franchett, director of the Fox Valley Commission, will be co-chairmen of the conference.

Walter Rasmussen, Appleton city planning director, will be program chairman, assisted by Dr. William Gallagher, superintendent of the Appleton Water Department, and a representative of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission.

Clarence Mitchell, recently elected to the state planner's executive board, also will assist in making arrangements for the conference.

Menasha Man Injured In Two-Car Mishap

MENASHA — The driver of one of two cars involved in a collision on Washington Street Friday received a cut lip and was taken home by a policeman.

Police said Sylvester R. Omachinski, 58, 740 Racine St., was driving north on Washington Street when his car struck the rear of an auto operated by Everett L. Gilbert, 53, 522 Washington Ave., Neenah, who had stopped and was about to make a left turn onto River Street.

Omachinski cut his lip and his car sustained an estimated $275 damages. The Gilbert auto showed $100 in damage.

First Play of Season

'Six Characters in Search of an Author' Cast Named at Lawrence

A cast of 23 student actors has been named to the Lawrence University Theatre production of Luigi Pirandello's "Six Characters in Search of an Author," first play of the college drama season. The production will be seen nightly at 8 p.m. from Wednesday through Saturday, Nov. 16-19, in Stansbury Theatre at the Lawrence Music-Drama Center.

Reserved seats are on sale at the university box office in the center. Student and adult prices are offered. Tickets for the three-play season are also available.

Two area students are among the cast chosen by director F. Theodore Cloak, professor and chairman of the Lawrence theatre department. They are Robert Suettinger, Two Rivers, who plays the role of the son, and David Blake, 401 Edgewood Drive, Neenah, cast as a stage prompter.

Action in the Pirandello play takes place in a theater rehearsal in which the actors are interrupted by a group of disgruntled "characters" intent on playing out the roles only partly completed for them by their playwright.

Pocket Knife Found Near Murder Scene

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Authorities investigating the slaying of a teenage secretary say they have collected two cartons of items in their search for clues.

Investigators said Friday they had no suspect in the fatal stabbing Thursday of Diane J. Olkowitz, and were not positive there was any link between her death and the recent slayings of two other girls in Milwaukee.

Miss Olkowitz, 19, of Menomonee Falls was found at Kenworth Co Inc in suburban Menomonee Falls, apparently slain by an intruder. Officials said she had been stabbed perhaps more than 100 times with a short-blade knife.

Among items found near the scene was a pocket knife. Police declined to say if the knife could have been the slaying weapon.

Jaycees Urge Residents to Return Survey

KAUKAUNA — Approximately 500 of the 2,500 questionnaires distributed by the Jaycees have been returned and citizens are requested to fill out the questionnaires and return them as soon as possible, according to Donald Green, president.

The questionnaires are designed to ascertain what citizens feel are the most pressing needs of the community and, unless a return of at least 1,000 is realized, the survey will not be considered realistic or conclusive.

Plans call for the questionnaires to be analyzed by a computer, but before this can be done considerable preliminary tabulation and detail work must be completed. Results of the survey will not be available for some time after all returns are received.

The Jaycees are working in cooperation with a master comprehensive planner being considered by city officials. When returns are tabulated it will be possible for city officials to ascertain what citizens consider the primary needs and take steps to fill these needs immediately or through long-range planning.

UW Regent's Meeting

New Chancellor Gets 'Tardy' on First Day

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The teacher was tardy Friday.

Prof. Edward W. Weidner, newly appointed chancellor of the newly named University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, was late to his first formal presentation to the University of Wisconsin (UW) Board of Regents.

Weidner was to be called upon soon after the start of the day's session on the Madison campus for his request that the north-eastern branch campus be formally named the "University of Wisconsin-Green Bay."

But Weidner was not in the room.

UW President Fred Harrington lengthened his first presentation, awaiting Weidner's arrival. But finally the time came to move ahead on the agenda.

"Chancellor Weidner will be happy to get up here to Wisconsin where we have warm weather," Harrington told the regents. "They have had quite a snow storm down there in Kentucky, you know. Perhaps that is what has delayed him," he said.

"But Mr. President — I had breakfast with him this morning," said Regent Kenneth Greenquist, accompanied by the laughter of the rest of the board.

"Well then, he's here but he hasn't learned to get to meetings on time," said the punctual president. "We won't reprimand him — this time."

Weidner then walked into the room and all went well.

In Town of Menasha

Two to Face Charges After Gun Incidents

MENASHA — A Menasha man is to be charged with reckless use of firearms and a Town of Menasha man with drunk and disorderly conduct involving a gun, in two separate incidents early today in the Town of Menasha.

In the first case, the man fired a .45 caliber pistol shot through the front door of the James Kluba home, 1090 Stead Drive, Town of Menasha, about 5:20 a.m. today.

Kluba told county authorities he answered the door bell and saw the man standing at the door holding the gun. Kluba said he slammed the door shut, turned off the lights and ran upstairs. A few seconds later he heard the shot.

City of Menasha police were the first on the scene and picked up the defendant a short time later. County officers found a spent slug at the bottom of the basement stairs.

The man has been released pending a court appearance Wednesday.

Attempts Escape

In the second incident, Richard Cook, county policeman, who also was in on the incident at the Kluba home, was forced to fire two shots into the ground to halt a suspect who had fled from the squad car while being taken to the county jail.

Cook had answered a call in the town at 2:29 a.m. on a man threatening his wife with a gun.

When Cook arrived, he found the defendant threatening to fire a rifle shot into a neighbor's home to which his wife had fled. The incident apparently started when the man, who had brought some friends home to play cards, was unable to find a bottle of whiskey he had in his car.

Enroute to the county jail, the man jumped from the squad car at Main Street and County Trunk S in Neenah. Cook fired two warning shots into the ground and the man stopped.

Housewives Angered by Sugar Offer

Offers of free sugar have turned a group of Appleton housewives sour.

Four stores have been added to a list proposed for boycott by the area women who are planning a protest of high food prices, according to the Associated Press.

The proposal announced Friday is to be part of an Appleton demonstration tentatively scheduled to start after the Tuesday elections.

Mrs. Bette Millheiser, speaking for a housewife group trying to organize protest movements in several Wisconsin communities, said the group became irritated with store managers' refusals to negotiate.

The stores, she said, were giving a five-pound bag of sugar to anyone making a purchase of $7.50 or more. Such offers, she argued, raise grocery prices.

Women in Waukesha, Milwaukee suburbs, Grafton and other cities have objected to what they contend are price-boosting schemes such as "free" dishes, music piped into stores, trading stamps and special advertisements.

Mrs. Millheiser said there were 50 Appleton women preparing to start the boycott activity.

Carl Peeters Heads Village Business Unit

LITTLE CHUTE — Carl Peeters was elected president of the Businessmen's Association at Thursday night meeting with Robert Look named vice president.

Named secretary-treasurer was Jerome Vanden Heuvel and directors were Joseph Boots, Robert Gneuser and Peter Van Zeeland. Bernard Bongers, chairman of a budget committee, proposed the first budget ever set up by the organization and outlined areas for expenditures including Christmas decorations and business promotion.

The street decorating program for the Christmas season has been adopted by the Jaycees, with financial support from the Association, and Paul charges and bond for a companion. John Russell, 23, formerly outlined decoration plans.

Trees, lighted and decorated will be set on steel poles throughout the business district and holly stringers will be used across streets near the heart of the business district. The decorations will be completely different from those used other burglaries of the Tiger Lynn years, according to Van Zeeland.

Plans call for the decorating program to be expanded each year for a few years to make the village more attractive for

State Plans to Halt Pollution In Court Action

Alleged Violations Sent to Attorney General for Handling

MADISON (AP)—The Department of Resource Development says it is considering court action against 58 firms and communities told to halt pollution of nine Wisconsin streams.

Wayne F. McGown, the new agency's acting director, said Friday eight enforcement requests were sent to Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette and that others are to be sent by Nov. 16.

Without court action, the deadline for compliance with an anti-pollution order is 30 days. McGown said some of the 58 cleanup orders date back five years.

Follows Warning
The action follows a warning Oct. 20 by attorney John Potter of Wisconsin Rapids, chairman of the Resource Development Board, that he was considering legal action on neglected clean-up orders.

Potter had also asked the status of 24 enforcement requests. La Follette replied six of them were in the hands of courts, two were en route to courts, and the rest were being processed.

The 58 requests sent to La Follette by McGown were among a group of 74 alleged violators against whom Potter had threatened a crackdown.

Official Comments
Potter's action prompted a federal anti-pollution official to comment that if the state is "going to enforce water quality standards, I don't think Wisconsin needs a federal enforcement conference."

The remark was considered a political triumph for Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles who had said the state could handle such problems without federal help.

The 58 alleged violations concern the Black, Sugar, Eau Claire, Oconto, Peshigo, Sheboygan, Menominee, Upper Rock and Lower Rock rivers. Colby, Oconto, Stratford, Lena and Wabeno were communities involved in McGown's requests to La Follette.

Involve Factories
Also involved were the Diamond Dairy of Edgar, the Cloverdale cheese factory at Dorchester, and the Town Line cheese factory at Gillett. McGown said Cranston, Niagara, Hutisford, Brandon, Iron Ridge and Laona, the Allenton Sanitary District and the Maple Grove cheese factory at Mayville were among a list to be submitted Monday.

Rep. John Byrnes, R-Green Bay, received a plaque signifying his selection as "Man of the Year" by the national association of commuter airlines. The presentation was made Friday by Karl Baldwin, left, of Air Wisconsin, Appleton's commuter airline, as ground was broken for the new runway at Outagamie County airport. Byrnes' work to get FFA to change standards so airports with commuter service only could qualify for navigational aids was instrumental in his choice as man of the year. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Voting for Sheriff Outagamie Feature

Veteran Policemen Marx, Main Liven Ballot; Clerk Opposed

What probably will be a generally uninteresting election on the county level, due to the abbreviated list of Democratic candidates, could be livened by the contest for Outagamie County sheriff.

Undersheriff Norbert J. Marx, a Republican, will be opposed by Lt. Robert Main of the Kaukauna Police Department. Both men have conducted strong campaigns through personal contacts, information meetings and literature.

Marx, 53, and Main, 54, have long records of police service. Marx, undersheriff for Calvin L. Spice (also a Kaukauna resident) since 1962, retired as a detective sergeant from the Appleton Police Department where he worked for 24 years.

Juvenile Officer
Main is a 30-year veteran of the Kaukauna Police Department where he has been juvenile officer the past 10 years.

Marx earned a berth in Tuesday's general election by registering a 67-vote win over Donald J. Heinritz of Appleton. Spice, who has served two consecutive terms as sheriff, is ineligible, under state law, to seek a third term this year.

The only other competition for a county office is for clerk. Mollie E. Pfeffer, seeking a sixth term, will be opposed by Genevieve Andersen, a Kaukauna Democrat.

Peter L. Berg, seeking his first full term as county treasurer, faces no opposition.

Unopposed Candidates
Also unopposed Tuesday are Coroner Bernard H. Kemps, Clerk of Courts Sydney M. Shannon, Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer, Register of Deeds Dominic P. Peeters and Surveyor or Frank M. Charlesworth Jr. All are Republicans.

All three of the county's incumbent assemblymen face opposition Tuesday. Harold V. Rroehlich of Appleton, first district assemblyman, will be opposed by Ronald H. Steward, a Democrat, William Rogers, Second district Democrat from Kaukauna, will be opposed by Keith C. Van Vuren of Seymour, former publisher of a Seymour-Black Creek newspaper.

The third assembly district will find Ervin W. Conradt, incumbent Republican, will be opposed by Gordon Gorges of Black Creek.

Grand Chute Files Appeal Of Valuation Assessment

Highlands School Contracts Accepted

Excavation to Begin for Northwest Area Elementary Structure

Acting swiftly after being appraised of the keen bidding, the Appleton council Friday night approved contracts for construction of the new Highlands Elementary School on the city's far northwest side.

Council action paved the way today for earth-moving equipment to begin the excavation of the site on Elinor Street between Glendale Avenue and Lindbergh Street.

It took about 15 minutes — including brief comments from Mayor George Buckley and a few aldermen — last night and $1,066,959 in construction bids were approved.

Mayor Buckley and City Clerk Elden Broehm were authorized to sign the contracts with three Milwaukee and two Appleton firms.

Bond Issue

Money for the school, which will cost about $1.5 million when completed and fully equipped, will be derived from a bond issue the city will float later in the month.

Several months ago the council told the board of education it would have to "live" within the $1.5 million appropriation for the new two-story school which will include an orthopedic wing.

Mayor Buckley, who in recent days has leveled barages of criticism at the school board's 1967 operations budget, had indicated before the meeting that he would compliment the board for its handling of the Highlands School project.

"When they do an outstanding job, I believe in giving them credit," Buckley said. However, the mayor said he was not relenting on his position that $300,000 should be cut from the board's budget for next year in keeping with the finance committee recommendation.

Special Meeting

Buckley said last night he was pleased to see that a local company was the low bidder and eager to get the construction started and completed. He said the special meeting had been called to cooperate with the school board.

"Some months ago, you told the school board to build us a good school and a practical one," Buckley said. "They have complied with your wishes in every respect — even to staying under the bond issue."

Buckley complimented Charles Buchanan Jr., board president; other board members; William Spears, school superintendent; and the architects, Schuette Phillips Moehon Inc.

Buckley said on Thursday he and the city clerk had been requested by school officials to sign the construction contracts but would not do so without prior approval of the council — thus the special meeting.

Ald. Arthur E. Mueller (19th), in whose ward the new school will be located, reminded colleagues that concrete streets already were constructed around the school site and lights put up on the streets in that area some time ago.

Earlier Troubles

Mueller noted it is in contrast to other new school projects where there have been problems getting streets, sidewalks and other facilities constructed in inventory by the state highway time for opening of the new buildings.

Contracts signed by Buckley and Broehm included: T. Utshig and Son, Appleton, general, $635,500; Josten Co., Milwaukee, painting, $26,000; Superior Plumbing Co., Milwaukee, $93,877; R. Wenzel Co., Appleton, heating and ventilating, $143,383; Stephenson Electric Co., Appleton, electrical, $121,582; and Otis Elevator Co., $12,537.

Bids on folding walls for some rooms will be taken later with estimated cost about $33,000.

When the architect's fee of $63,963, site improvement costs of $10,000, furniture and equipment costs of $210,000 and $99,000 contingent fund are added to the bids — total cost of the fully equipped school comes out to $1,450,000.

Weyauwega, Appleton Youths Injured When Car Runs Into Tree

Two 19-year-old youths, one from Weyauwega, were taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by Lindy's Ambulance after their car struck a tree about 12:50 a.m. today at Glendale Avenue and N. Oneida Street.

Appleton police said William J. Neubauer, 110 W. Summer St., Weyauwega, driver of the car, received forehead cuts and leg injuries, while his passenger, William R. Gresens, 1326 W. Lawrence St., Appleton, received a cut nose.

Police said Neubauer lost control of his car while turning onto Glendale from Oneida Street. The car struck the curb several times and ran headon into a tree.

$10 Million Group's Goal

LaFave to Lead Drive For Long Bridge Funds

Members of a bridge action committee Friday chose State Sen. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto, as chairman and leader of a move to allocate nearly $10 million per biennium for construction of long bridges in Wisconsin.

LaFave proposed transferring to the state Long Bridge Act tax collected from sales of highway equipment. The money, totaling approximately $4.8 million annually, presently goes into the state's general fund.

The bridge group met Thursday at the Terrace Motel near Appleton. The committee was formed in September after a meeting called by LaFave and Gordon Bubolz, chairman of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission.

Members Named

County and state highway officials and representatives from municipalities in the state's highway District No. 3 were named to the action committee. About 30 were present Thursday.

LaFave's proposal includes an appeals with Grand Chute to the state for review of values. Reasons for asking the appeal listed in the official statement include:

—The recommendation of the supervisor of assessments as adopted by the county board was not based upon adequate inspection and examination of property in the town.

—The assessment was not the result of lawful assessment practices as required by laws of Wisconsin.

—The assessment failed to take into account the variations between urban and commercial areas as opposed to rural and agricultural areas, subsequently causing disproportionate values based upon urban and commercial areas.

The appeal was filed Friday with Outagamie County clerk Mollie E. Pfeffer. It will now be given to the state board of tax appeals.

Sweetan Carries Lions' Hopes

Unitas and Company Entertain High-Riding Washington Redskins

Bart Starr may be scrambling with Fran Tarkenton Sunday when Minnesota's improving defense tests the potent Green Bay Packers in the National Football League northland. Tarkenton, the NFL's hottest quarterback in recent weeks, figures to lead the Western Division-leading Packers on a merry chase at Green Bay. And the Viking defenders, who came of age last week, promise to make the going rough for Green Bay's backfield directed by Starr and bolstered by the return of Paul Hornung.

In throttling San Francisco 28-3 last Sunday, the Vikings did not permit a touchdown for the first time since they entered the NFL in 1961. Meanwhile, Tarkenton fired two touchdown passes, ran for two more and gained a total of 349 yards.

The scurrying signal-caller has completed 74.7 per cent of his passes in the Vikings' last three games, throwing for 836 yards and seven touchdowns. Minnesota ran two of those three, dropping a three-point decision to Baltimore in between, for a 2-4-1 season mark.

10-Point Choice
Despite Tarkenton, the Packers, 7-1, rate a 10-point choice to handle Minnesota for the 10th time in 11 meetings. The Packers' defense, anchored by Ray Nitschke and Willie Davis, has yielded only 10 points in three straight victories.

Starr, who hit on 11 of 13 pass attempts against Detroit last week, is the league's No. 1 runner. Hornung is available after missing two games with a neck injury.

The Colts, trailing Green Bay by 1 1/2 games in the Western race, entertain the Washington Redskins in the day's interconference duel. St. Louis' Eastern Division leaders are at New York, Dallas' high-scoring Cowboys at Philadelphia, the Cleveland Browns at Pittsburgh, the Detroit Lions at Chicago, and the Los Angeles Rams at San Francisco.

Baltimore's Johnny Unitas, who set an all-time record for lifetime passing yardage last Sunday, may prove too much for the Redskins, who have won five of their last six to remain in contention in the East at 5-3. The Colts, 5-2, have won three in a row and have beaten Washington six straight times.

May Have Breather
The Cardinals, who moved one-half game ahead of Dallas last Monday by trimming Chicago 24-17, may find a breather in the injury-riddled Giants, but they are expecting trouble. New York led all the way in their first meeting before a Charlie Johnson - Billy Gambrell touchdown pass pulled out a 24-19 victory for the Cards in the closing minutes.

Dallas, led by quarterback Don Meredith, throws the league's No. 1 offense and No. 2 defense against the Eagles in a rematch of last month's 56-7 Cowboy romp. Meredith leads the NFL with 19 touchdowns and Dan Reeves tops the individual scoring parade with 11 TDs for 66 points.

The Browns, who have won four in a row in a bid to retain their Eastern crown, are heavy favorites to extend Pittsburgh's losing streak to six. Cleveland won the first meeting 41-10 and buried Atlanta 49-17 last week.

as Frank Ryan passed for four scores.

Butkus Returns
Karl Sweetan, the rookie quarterback who passed for 271 yards last week against the Packers, carries Detroit hopes for a repeat of its season-opening upset over the Bears. Dick Butkus, who sat out most of Monday night's loss to St. Louis with a pulled leg muscle, returns to bulwark Chicago's defensive brigade.

The 49ers will be out to reverse an early 34-3 loss to Los Angeles while the Rams will be bucking a three-game slide. Neither team could muster a touchdown drive in losing last Sunday but the LA attack led by Dick Bass and Tommy McDonald, may carry the day.

Griffith-Archer Bout Delayed

Middleweight King Has Torn Ligament In Right Foot

NEW YORK (AP) — Emile Griffith, the world's middleweight boxing champion, feels considerably less than good and his return title bout with challenger Joey Archer has been postponed for the second time.

The two New Yorkers had been scheduled to go at it next Thursday night in Madison Square Garden. Instead the fight was rescheduled for Jan. 23 after an examination Friday showed Griffith had suffered a torn ligament in his right foot.

"I feel lousy," Griffith said at his Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., training camp after doctors for the New York State Athletic Commission had confirmed the original diagnosis of the champ's injury.

The mishap happened Thursday in the first round of sparring with Gordon Lott. "I twisted my right ankle," Griffith related. "It didn't feel bad. I started to box another round, then I felt a sharp pain in my heel."

The return bout between Griffith and Archer first was set for Oct. 21 at the Garden, but was postponed to Nov. 10 when Archer became ill with a virus.

"Well, that's one and one," Archer said when he learned of the postponement.

Griffith and Archer battled first for the title last July 13 in the Garden, and Griffith retained his title on a close, controversial 15-round decision.

Appleton High School's crack defensive unit has placed four players on the 1966 All-Fox River Valley Conference squad.

The Lutz brothers — Wayne and Gary — Keith Mossholder and Pat Garvey were chosen on the first defensive team by the Fox River Valley Sportswriters Association.

The Terrors failed to place anyone on the first offensive team, but their center, Paul Ziemer, won a berth on the second unit.

Greg Gretz, of champion Manitowoc, and Green Bay West's Jim Anderson led the balloting by winning unanimous approval on both the offensive and defensive platoons. Other players winning first team honors both ways are West's Dennis Gutzman and Manitowoc's Bob Hablewitz.

Hablewitz, a 215-pound rock in the Manitowoc line, was selected as "Lineman of the year." Jim Anderson, West's all-around dandy, gets the nod as "Back of the Year" in the league.

The writers picked 18 players to man the two first-string platoons (with four of them going both ways). Manitowoc accounted for one-third of the total, with six players. The Ship's Hablewitz and Bob Check — in addition to Gretz were unanimous picks on offense.

Second With 4
Appleton, the early-season pace-setter that finished in a fourth-place tie, was second in the number of players cited — with four. It reflected the Terror defensive strength — since AHS paced the league both in total defense and in least point allowed.

Fond du Lac and West were the only other teams to place as many as two players. Sheboygan North, co-runnerup, failed to win a first-team berth — the same difficulty that befell lowly Sheboygan South.

The only first-time repeaters from 1965 are East's Bill Van Beckum — in the line — and Gretz on defense. Gretz, who was picked as a defensive tackle last year, made the grade as a linebacker this time around.

Oshkosh's Jim Schroeder, who was a first-team back last year, was dropped to the second team this season. Mossholder and Gutzman were promoted from last year's second unit.

Returns To Action
The rugged and mobile Mossholder and the battling Gary Lutz were keystones in the AHS forward wall that was hardest to run against in the conference.

Gary Lutz sat out the 1965 campaign because of a leg injury and served as an "assistant coach" for the first few 1966 practices. The competitive urge got the better of Gary, however, and he returned to the active list and played outstanding ball.

Wayne Lutz also ran into an injury bugaboo, suffering a leg fracture in the final game of the season. All season, he had been a tiger on defense and was regarded as the best AHS linebacker since Gary Hietpas, who is now starting for Lawrence University.

Garvey caught the fancy of the writers with his aggressive play and quick reactions as a defensive halfback.

Cash's Operation Called Successful

DETROIT (AP)—The hernia operation on Detroit Tiger first baseman Norman Cash was "completely successful with no complications," a doctor reported Friday.

Cash will remain in Baylor Hospital at Dallas for five days, then stay in Dallas five more days for examination and treatment, the Tiger office reported here.

Cash will return to his home at Eldorado, Tex., for the winter and should be completely recovered by the time spring training starts, the Tigers said.

3 Appleton Quints Are Practicing for 1966-7 Campaign

FVL Has Five Lettermen, AHS Four and Xavier Three

All three high school basketball teams in Appleton have begun practice for the 1966-7 campaign.

Xavier gets away to the earliest start — Nov. 18, in a home game against Wisconsin Rapids Assumption.

Appleton High launches play Nov. 23 at Kimberly. Fox Valley Lutheran opens Nov. 25 against cross-town Xavier.

All openings are against non-conference opposition. Xavier has the most ambitious non-league schedule, with five of its six non-conference games slated for the first 10 days of the season.

Fox Lutheran swings right into Midwest Prep Conference action (against Wisconsin Lutheran) after its game with Xavier. It will be FVL's second season of MPC play.

Plays 2 Non-Leaguers

AHS returns to non-conference play after going through one season with a "closed" schedule in the Fox River Valley Conference. The Terrors meet Kimberly and Neenah in non-league play to take the places of Oshkosh and Green Bay East, who will be met only once each in FRVC play.

Xavier, coached by Gene (Torchy) Clark has three lettermen back for its Fox Valley Catholic Conference title defense. They are Gene Jack, Tom Heinritz and Dan Hardy.

Other varsity men back from last season include Pat Fitzgerald, Terry Graff, Tom Thompson and Jeff Bartosic.

Dick Emanuel-coached AHS, which tied for second in the FRVC last season, has four lettermen: George Hoffman, Pat Garvey, Bob Simon and Art Zuleger.

Other returning varsity squad members include Bill Foth and Fred Ehardt.

Gary Lutz, forced to miss last season's play because of an injury, will join the varsity after a standout JV campaign two seasons ago.

FVL, coached by Gerhard Kaniess, has five lettermen. They are Dave Tiedt, Howie Korth, Bob Schuelke, Gary Depner and Paul Mueller. Muel-

Bays' Attack Has Become Productive

Vikings Seek to Damage Packer Bid for Another Western Title

By KEN HARTNETT

GREEN BAY (AP) — Torrid Fran Tarkenton and the turnabout Minnesota Vikings battle the Green Bay Packers Sunday in a game giving the Vikings a chance to salvage solace from the ruins of their National Football League season.

With only a reed-thin hope of overcoming a languid start, the Vikings could damage the Packers in their bid for another Western Conference crown.

Green Bay, with a 7-1 record and a one and one-half game lead in the west, is meeting the Vikings for the first time this season.

Minnesota, 2-4-1 after failing to come up with a win in its first four games, has won two of its last three starts behind the running and passing of Tarkenton and an improved defense.

Complete 61 Passes
Tarkenton has been phenomenal. In his last three outings, the former Georgia scrambler has completed 61 (62 per cent) of 98 passes. He has thrown for 836 yards and seven touchdowns.

The quarterback gained 130 yards and another three touchdowns with his running. Tarkenton's heroics helped bring victories over Los Angeles and San Francisco and almost tumbled the Baltimore Colts who escaped with a 20-17 decision.

While Tarkenton kept the offensive fires burning, the defensive unit — the league's most prodigal a year ago — built a bonfire of its own.

In the past four games, the Vikings have allowed only 42 points, a performance almost as good as Green Bay's. The Packers' defense, the most grudging in the league, have yielded only 31 points in the four-week stretch with 21 of them going in a one-point loss to San Francisco.

Tarkenton will be matched with Bart Starr, the Packers' quietly spectacular quarterback who is enjoying one of his finest seasons.

Starr is currently the NFL's leading passer with 102 completions in 158 throws for a completion percentage of .650 and 10 touchdowns. Starr hit with 11 of 13 throws in helping humble Detroit a week ago.

The improved Viking defensive unit will have to cope with a Packer attack that has grown more explosive as the season has progressed.

Although unable to score more than 24 points in any of their first six games, the Packers scored 56 against Atlanta two Sundays ago and 31 against Detroit last week.

The Vikings have lost three straight games to Green Bay. The last defeat was particularly ranking. It was inflicted after two disputed rulings disallowed Minnesota touchdown bids in the final minute of the 24-19 game.

The game is part of a television doubleheader and will start two hours later than usual.

14 Packers Have Scored This Season

Bill Anderson and Dowler Looking for First Touchdowns

Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY — The Packers can set a club record for scoring versatility this season.

They established a mark of sorts when 15 different people got their fingers in the 316-point scoring pie during the 1965 league season.

The current Packers, third highest in the league with 216 points, already have 14 folks listed in their scoring table. And three scoring representatives of a year ago still haven't been heard from — Boyd Dowler, Bill Anderson and Bob Long.

The Bays top the Western Division teams in scoring and only two other clubs have outscored Green Bay — both Eastern Division teams Dallas, with 266, and Cleveland, with 234.

Don Chandler leads the 1966 Packers with 54 points on nine field goals (in 18 attempts) and a perfect string of 27 extra points.

Elijah Pitts and Paul Hornung are next with 30 points each while Jim Taylor has 24. Carroll Dale scored 18 and Donny Anderson counted 12 each.

Eight Packers scored one TD each and five of them are defensive aces — Herb Adderley, Lee Roy Caffey, Bob Jeter, Doug Hart and Willie Wood. The others are Bart Starr, Marv Fleming and Max McGee.

Sunday's guest in Lambeau Field (don't forget the 3:05 kickoff). The Vikings, had 7 scorers in counting 383 points in 165. The 49ers, who led the league with 421 points, had 15 different scorers. The current Vikings have 10 scorers represented among their 150 points. None of them are defensive players.

Bobcats' 9-7 Victory Paced By Yewman

GREEN BAY (AP) — Gordie Yewman fired three goals Friday night to lead the Green Bay Bobcats of the U.S. Hockey League to a 9-7 victory over the U.S. Nationals.

The Nationals, warming up for the 1967 world tourney in Austria, led 4-2 after two periods. Doug Woog scored two for the losers.

The Nationals, the former St. Paul Steers, face Green Bay in another match tonight.

Hand Predicts Wins For Packers, Colts

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Tarkenton and his Minnesota scramblers will take a shot at the Green Bay Packers this week and the Vikings' quarterback, who seems to make up plays as he goes along, probably will give Vinnie Lombardi a few grey hairs.

The Vikings' unorthodox style usually troubles the Packers, who scorn the hipper dipper for the old bread and butter style. However, the Packers hold a 9-1 edge over Minnesota in their club series.

St. Louis, Dallas and Cleveland appear to have clear sailing ahead in the NFL and that San Diego-Kansas City game should help clear up the confusion in the AFL's West.

The Cards knocked the old

Hand picker out of a perfect record last week but the 10-1 makes it 62-24-5 for the season. Let's try again. All games are to be played Sunday.

NFL

Cleveland 31, Pittsburgh 14— Browns have won four straight and Bill Austin's Steelers have dropped five in a row, including 41-10 drubbing by Cleveland Oct. 8. Browns can kill you with runs or passes with Frank Ryan, Leroy Kelly and Ernie Green. Steelers back to Ron Smith at quarterback.

Dallas 35, Philadelphia 13— Wolves snapping at Eagles despite 4-4 record. Cowboys lead league in scoring and are second in defense with Mel Renfro back at safety. Don't expect repeat of 56-7 rout Oct. 9 by Dallas but, the Cowboys should win handily.

Los Angeles 23, San Francisco 17— This will be rugged. The 49ers put Bill Munson out for the season in this game last year. Rams won first meeting 34-3 on four interceptions and fumble but have lost three straight. 49ers hurting if Dave Parks is out. George Donnelly already lost. A Bruce Gossett win.

Green Bay 27, Minnesota 17— As Joe Louis put it long ago "You can run, but you can't hide." Tarkenton will scramble, but the Packers will pin him down. With a bye next week, Green Bay can go all out and that means trouble. Paul Hornung due back and Donny Anderson is ready and waiting in the wings. Elijah Pitts is healthy.

Baltimore 27, Washington 20— Who thought the Redskins would be 5-3 at this stage? Otto Graham must be doing it with mirrors. Colts never take Skins lightly, not with that neighborhood feud. Baltimore has won five since 1959 and still hopes to catch Green Bay in that big Dec. 10 game.

Chicago 14, Detroit 7— Afraid of this one. Lions are desperate with fans singing "Good Bye Harry" and players in bitter mood. Bears had tough game Monday night in St. Louis and could be used up physically. Karl Sweetan looking better each week and Bears' passing game erratic. It's up to Gale Sayers and the defense.

St. Louis 24, New York 13— For some strange reason Giants always give Cards fits. They even did it this year before losing Oct. 9 game 24-19. Unless Cards are looking ahead too far they should have no trouble with battered Giants, even after their one-week holiday. Don't forget, this will be Cards' second game in week.

Atlanta has the bye.

AFL

Boston 20, Denver 10— Denver's defense is stopping nobody. Jim Nance should romp again. Pats took Eastern lead last week and they're not going to give it up in game with team that beat 24-10 earlier on the road.

Buffalo 30, Miami 7— Bills were sky high in win over Jets and figure to have letdown against Dolphins, who had won two straight before last week's bye. Bills rolled it up in first game 58-24 and have too much class to stumble here.

Kansas City 28, San Diego 17— Chiefs either win big or fall on their faces. Chargers, in and outers this year, had to scramble to get past Denver. Kansas City coming off two easy wins, scoring 104 points against Broncos and Oilers.

Oakland 21, Houston 17— Why? We saw Houston on TV last week. Raiders on the move, despite 24-21 loss in Boston, and eager to make up for 31-0 beating by Houston in early season. Oilers going with Don Trull, benching George Blanda.

New York has the bye.

Cliff Richey to Represent U. S.

Surprise Move in Start of Inter-Zone Davis Cup Semifinal

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil (AP) — In a surprise move, Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., was to represent the United States today in the opening match of the inter-zone Davis Cup tennis semifinal against Brazil.

The 19-year-old schoolboy was to play Edson Mandarino. Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., America's top-ranked player, was to play Brazilian ace Thomas Koch in the second match.

Richey's clay court experience and the fact he swept the entire Brazilian team last week in winning a tournament in Buenos Aires were the reasons given for the choice.

Furore Settled

In another development, a mild furore which was started when a Rio de Janeiro newspaper said the Americans took pep pills on the courts apparently has been settled.

The Americans scoffed at the charge and Rafael Rodriguez, U.S. team physician, said:

"On hot days, they sometimes take salt tablets or glucose. This is done by players all over the world."

The winner of the series will play the survivor of the West Germany-India match for the right to challenge Australia for the Cup in Melbourne in late December.

Don Erdmann Blasts 671 in Little Chute

Don Erdmann walloned a 671 series in the Fox Valley Bowling League Friday night at Little Chute Recreation. Erdmann also had game honors, with a 247 and added a 235, as well.

Other leading scorers in the league were: Joe Hinkens, 232 and 606; Joe Reynebau, 225 and 597; Vin Jansen, 242 and 591; Marty Van Gompel, 582; Bill Riedel, 580; "Spike" Versteegen, 572 and 230; Jerry Lamers, 568; Jim School and Dave Austin, 551s.

In the Commercial League, at Sabre Lanes, Friday night, Hensen's "400" came up with a team game of 1,034. Individually, Bud Wegner took league honors, with a 590 set "Nubs" Roeland had a 561.

Anniversary of Celtics Tonight Against 76ers

By DAVE O'HARA
BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics celebrate their 20th anniversary in a meeting with arch-rival Philadelphia tonight — and Boston fans would just as soon forget "the good old days."

From a humble beginning, the Celtics developed into a legendary dynasty. Now only Philadelphia's 76ers appear capable of threatening Boston's reign.

On Nov. 5, 1946, the Celtics played their first game in Boston as a member of the Basketball Association of America, forerunner of the present National Basketball Association.

A turnout crowd of 4,329 welcomed the Celtics at the Boston Arena. Things got off to a comical start as Chuck Connors shattered the glass backboard during pre-game warm-up, and the start was delayed an hour while a replacement was obtained and installed.

Star of Team

Connors, regarded as a star of the team, went on to television and movie fame. He had a field goal shooting percentage of .247.

The Celtics met the Chicago Stags in the opener 20 years ago. The Stags, who later disbanded, gained a 57-55 victory. The game total of 112 points hardly is a respectable output for Boston's present stars.

Boston finished its first year with a 22-38 record and failed to make the playoffs. The team gradually improved in following years, but so did opponents.

It wasn't until the arrival of Red Auerbach and Bob Cousy in 1950-51 that the Celtics managed to play better than .500 ball.

Then, in the 1956-57 season, Tom Heinsohn, Bill Russell and Frank Ramsey checked in, sparking Boston to the Eastern Division title and the NBA championship.

Eight Straight

The Celtics were derailed by St. Louis the following year, but rebounded and since have won eight straight league championships, a feat unmatched in the history of other sports.

Philadelphia, led by Wilt Chamberlain, edged Boston by one game in ending the Celtics' reign as regular season Eastern champions last year. However, the Celtics came back to win the Eastern playoffs and go on to the NBA title.

Auerbach retired to the front office after the playoffs last spring, and Russell took over as player-coach. The veteran defensive whiz has guided the team to six victories in seven starts.

The lone loss is the one that hurts the Celtics most. It was a 138-96 clobbering, the worst in Boston history, at Philadelphia a week ago.

A capacity crowd of 13,909 is assured at Boston Garden tonight for the second meeting of the two powers in the young season.

Harvard Team Lands Safely

Plane Has Hydraulic System Leak in Flight to Princeton

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — An Eastern Airlines shuttle plane carrying most of the Harvard football team developed a hydraulic system leak Friday and was unable to lower its landing gear until just before landing at Newark Airport.

Jack Sheehan, a Boston Herald sports writer who was aboard the plane, said the flight carried Coach John Yovicsin and the starting backfield as well as other team members and a few assistant coaches, 120 persons in all.

About a dozen emergency vehicles lined the runway as the super constellation landed.

The flight left Logan International Airport in Boston for the flight to New Jersey, where the undefeated Crimson was to play Princeton today.

As the plane began its descent into Newark, the captain announced that half of the hydraulic power had been regained, and he was able to lower the landing gear normally.

Just before that, one team member said: "at least we're still undefeated."

Steelers' Strand Put on Waivers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League asked waivers on guard Eli Strand Friday and called up guard Ralph Wenzel from the taxi-squad.

Rookies Strand and Wenzel were with the Green Bay Packers earlier this year.

Uhlenbrauck Bowls 629 in Couples' Loop

Ken Uhlenbrauck slammed a 629 series to pace the Baseball Couples Bowling League Friday night at Village Lanes, Little Chute. His top singleton was a 245.

Leroy Schmandt crashed a 573 series in couples league at New London, but Wayne Sawall had top game honors with a 234 and notched a 552 set. Anna Mae Burns led the women with a 191-501.

Jerry Stuckert's 241 line was the top performance in Jerry's Bar Satellite League, Kimberly.

76ers Triumph, Set Mark With 18th Straight

Chamberlain Has 30 Points, 26 Rebounds, 13 Assists in Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Philadelphia 76ers have joined Roger Maris as asterisk members of sports' record books.

Maris, holds the record of 61 homers in a 162-game baseball season, but the asterisk separates his feat from Babe Ruth's 60 homers in a 154-game season.

The National Basketball Association 76ers won their 18th straight regular season game Friday, night, beating San Francisco 134-129 behind a dazzling show by Wilt Chamberlain. It was Philadelphia's seventh straight victory this year and tacked on to the 11 in a row that the 76ers won at the end of last season set a new NBA record.

Old Mark

The old mark of 17 straight shared by the 1946 Washington Capitols and the 1959 Boston Celtics stays in the book though the 76ers' mark will carry the asterisk designation since it has been accomplished over two seasons.

In other games Friday night, Cincinnati rallied for a 120-115 victory over Detroit and Los Angeles trounced Baltimore 131-98.

Chamberlain owns a lifetime scoring average of more than 30 points a game but had been averaging only a little more than 18 points a game this year.

Recently 76er coach Alex Hannum said, "one of these nights we're going to need Wilt Chamberlain's points — and we're going to ask him to go for the baskets more."

Friday night was the night. Chamberlain scored 30 points and led a Philadelphia spurt that wiped out an 11-point San Francisco margin in the final period.

The 7-foot-1 center also had 26 rebounds and 13 assists. Chet Walker scored 30 points and Hal Greer had 27 for the 76ers. Rick Barry led the Warriors with 46 points.

Cincinnati erased a 19-point Detroit lead in the final eight minutes and overtook the Pistons Oscar Robertson's 36 points led five double-figure scorers for the Royals.

Tom VanArsdale scored 24 and rookie Dave Bing 23 for Detroit.

Jerry West, who strained a heel in exhibition play, made his first start since the season opened and scored 20 points as Los Angeles dealt Baltimore its ninth defeat in 10 games and first under new coach Buddy Jeannette. Jeannette replaced Mike Farmer, who was fired Friday.

Gail Goodrich and Ruddy LaRusso scored 21 each for Los Angeles. Bob Ferry got 16 and Kevin Loughery 15 for the Bulls.

Roy McMillan Makes Satisfactory Progress In Surgery Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets said Friday that veteran shortstop Roy McMillan had made satisfactory progress in his recovery from surgery on his right shoulder.

McMillan was examined by the Mets' physician, Dr. Peter Lamotte, after flying in from his Bonham, Tex., home.

McMillan was injured last Aug. 3, re-injured eight days later and underwent surgery on Sept. 15.

Palmer Trails By 5 Strokes

Stanton, Welch Lead, Going Into The Final Round

SYDNEY (AP) — Par defeated American star Arnold Palmer today for the third successive round in the 72-hole professional golf tournament being played on the tricky Australian Club course at suburban Kensington.

With one round in the $9,000 tournament remaining to be played Sunday, Palmer is 10 over par at 226 and trails the two Australian leaders, Bob Stanton and Darrell Welch by five shots. Palmer shot a 73 today.

Gary Player of South Africa is a couple of shots behind Palmer.

Although the wind was not as strong today as it was in the first two days, only one competitor — Australian Bruce Devlin — was able to better par, with 71, and five, including Player and Martin Roesink of the Netherlands, were able to match it.

Australian Peter Thomson, who was joint leader Friday, fell behind when he bogeyed the 13th, 14th and 15th holes today.

Scoring in this tournament is so bad that any player who bettered 240 for the first three rounds got into the 50 who will play the final round. There were 125 starters.

I-S Forfeits Game To Wittenberg '11'

Iola-Scandinavia High School has forfeited its partially-completed football game against Wittenberg. The teams had been forced to halt their contest several weeks ago because of a rainstorm.

Wittenberg, in finishing as Central Wisconsin Conference runnerup, finished with a 6-1 record.

Chargers Meet Chiefs For AFL 'Western' Lead

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Boston's burly Jim Nance has burst through opposing American Football League lines for 753 yards this season. The Patriots would have you believe he's the top rusher in the league.

But you'll never persuade Kansas City that it doesn't have the AFL's top running threat everytime Len Dawson hands off to his halfback.

Sometimes the man with the ball is Bert Coan and other times it's Mike Garrett. They share the Chiefs' halfback job, and together have produced more yardage than Boston's Nance.

Garrett, the Heisman Trophy winner who cost the Chiefs an estimated $300,000, has gained 405 yards — fourth best figure in the league.

Coan, the veteran starter, has gained 381 yards — fifth best.

The Chiefs' halfback twins figure to see plenty of action Sunday when Kansas City defends its slim one-half game Western Division lead against runner-up San Diego in the AFL's key game.

Meanwhile, Nance hopes to increase his wide rushing lead — individual, not two-man division — against hapless Denver as the Patriots entertain the Broncos.

In other games, Buffalo, trailing the Pats by one-half game in the East, visits Miami and old friend Cookie Gilchrist while Houston's George Blanda tests the league's best passing defense at Oakland.

Between them Garrett and Coan have ground out 786 yards running and with Dawson battling San Diego's John Hadl for the AFL's passing lead, the Chiefs have the league's most potent attack.

Hadl, pacing the AFL's passers with a .555 completion percentage, has had to depend on an air attack this year. The Chargers' once devastating ground game has sputtered all year and Paul Lowe, last year's rushing champ, has been relegated to returning kickoffs.

Winless Four

The Chargers, 5-2-1 to Kansas City's 6-2, returned from a three-game winless tour of the East to top Denver 24-17 last week. San Diego has won only one game on the road all season.

Nance rushed for 208 yards in Boston's 24-21 victory over Oakland last week as the Patriots won their third straight. Boston has the league's top rushing defense but its poorest passing defense so the Broncos can be expected to throw.

Buffalo has battled its way back into the Eastern race and tied New York for second place with a 33-23 victory over the Jets last Sunday. Bobby Burnett and Wray Carleton, Buffalo's running backs, are 2-3 in the AFL's rushing statistics behind Nance.

The Honorable John W. Byrnes
House of Representatives
2205 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, D. C.

Dear John:

I just want you to know how helpful it has been to call on you frequently for advice and assistance during this session of Congress.

Your knowledge of pro football combined with your legislative background and experience have proved invaluable. The Packers and all their fans should indeed be grateful for all you have done to see that pro football continues on a sound basis.

I deeply appreciate all the time and effort you have given to our problems, John.

Kindest regards.

Sincerely,
PETE ROZELLE
Commissioner

The Packers and the National Football League have faced a number of problems involving federal legislation. The future of pro football, the ability of fans to see televised games, the prospects for an inter-league championship game have all hung in the balance. These problems have been successfully resolved through legislation. John Byrnes has played a significant role, as Commissioner Rozelle makes clear.

Work of Art Seems To be Unmovable

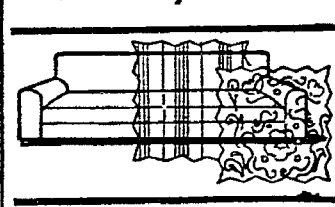

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — Spectators stare and county engineers attack her with fire hoses, but the 30-foot-high nude pink lady won't come down.

The painting of a voluptuous woman was discovered last weekend on stone 100 feet above a tunnel entrance four miles north of Malibu Beach.

She drew raves from the public but the road commissioner said she would be a hazard to drivers.

If paint remover or sandblasting fail, officials said, the lady will be given a modest coat of paint.

Manitowoc Takes Total Offense Crown

In its final football season as a combined high school, Appletton won all major defensive honors in the Fox River Valley Conference.

The Terrors allowed the fewest points (43), were first in total defense (an allowance of 1,051 yards in eight games) and were first in rushing defense (624).

AHS failed to come up with a comparable offense, however, as its final bid for a title before splitting into East and West units next year fell short in the closing weeks of the campaign. The Terrors were sixth in scoring (with 92 points) and fifth in total offense, with 1,573 yards. AHS completed only 23 passes (fourth lowest total in the league) in 90 attempts.

Appletton also lost 14 fumbles, and only two teams lost more (Oshkosh, 20; and Green Bay Southwest, 21).

Manitowoc, which won its first undisputed title in 36 years, ranked first in total offense, with 2,372 yards. Green Bay West was easily the top scoring team — with 226 points.

One record was broken and another tied. Fond du Lac's Dick Diener covered 395 yards on pass receptions — to break the 2-year-old record of East's Pat Harrington by seven yards. Sheboygan North attempted 200 passes — tying the 1964 Fond du Lac record.

West's touchdown twins, Dennis Gutzman and Jim Anderson, placed 1-2 in league scoring, with 97 and 61 points. AHS' top scorer was Gary Vivoda, with 24.

Manitowoc's Greg Gretz is the rushing champion, both in total yards (849) and average (7). Appletton's Bob Simon ranked fifth in the league, with 449 yards (5.8 average). Vivoda was 11th (332) and Jim Kloes 13th (265).

Of the 15 squad candidates, only four are juniors, while there are nine experienced seniors.

In their initial year in the 7-team conference (now enlarged to eight), the Foxes finished a surprise third, with a 7-5 mark. Overall, the Foxes were 15-6 while winning the Wisconsin Lutheran Invitational Tournament at Onalaska.

Buddy Jeannette To Coach Bullets

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets fired Mike Farmer as coach Friday and Buddy Jeannette was named for the third time to direct the National Basketball Association team.

The 30-year-old Farmer lasted only nine season games as coach. The Bullets lost eight of the games and are in last place in the Eastern Division.

Jeannette, 49, was named general manager last year. He had coached the Bullets the season before to third place and into the Western Division playoffs. He also was player-coach in 1947-48 when the Bullets won the NBA championship.

Farmer was signed to a two-year contract after Paul Seymour resigned last April. Earl Foreman, one of the Bullets owners, said Farmer had been invited to meet with them in two weeks to discuss his future.

New Intra-Team Dispute Sidelines Denver's Matsos
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Middle linebacker Archie Matsos, central figure in the Denver Broncos latest intra-team dispute, apparently won't play with them in their American Football League game at Boston Sunday.

Matsos, who left the practice field Wednesday, said through his attorney today that "the incident which brought about this entire situation could and should have been cleared up in Coach Ray Malavasi's office within a few minutes after it took place."

Malavasi said Matsos had not gone "all out" in a wind sprint ending Wednesday's practice. Malavasi also said he had demoted Matsos from a starting position because films of the San Diego game last Sunday indicated Matsos failed to perform up to his usual standard.

"I must leave to the judgment of the Denver fans, who I think are the best in professional football, whether or not I have done my best on the football field," Matsos' statement said.

The Broncos, 1-7 in the league, have been involved in internal problems since the start of season. Fullback Cookie Gilchrist did not report for practice, charging the Denver management was not first class. He is now with Miami.

Split end Lionel Taylor, who holds many AFL pass catching records, publicly complained this week that he was not being included in the Bronco game film and that quarterbacks seldom threw to him any more.

The Broncos, 1-7 in the league, have been involved in internal problems since the start of season. Fullback Cookie Gilchrist did not report for practice, charging the Denver management was not first class. He is now with Miami.

Split end Lionel Taylor, who holds many AFL pass catching records, publicly complained this week that he was not being included in the Bronco game film and that quarterbacks seldom threw to him any more.

San Diego game last Sunday indicated Matsos failed to perform up to his usual standard.

"I must leave to the judgment of the Denver fans, who I think are the best in professional football, whether or not I have done my best on the football field," Matsos' statement said.

Collective Bargaining Role Defended by Labor Official

Federal Intervention Frustrates Negotiations, C of C Forum Told

Government intervention should have no place in the union-management collective bargaining process because it tends to frustrate private negotiations, a high-ranking labor leader warned Friday.

Joseph D. Keenan, Washington, secretary of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, made a strong defense of collective bargaining and the role of unionism in this country at the first in a series of Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce forum meetings.

Speaking at the Conway Hotel, the veteran labor organizer who held his first office with a union collectively under the law.

Keenan said he believed collective bargaining has done more than any other single force to raise the ethical level of employer-employee relationships.

"Through it we have brought law and justice to industrial life," Keenan declared.

Unfortunate Feeling

He said it was regrettable many not engaged in union-management affairs feel unions are needed only in so-called "bad" companies.

"They seem to feel that if wages meet or exceed going rates, if working conditions are satisfactory, if the attitude of management reflects a sort of benevolent paternalism, then a union isn't necessary," Keenan declared. "This is not just true."

Necessary Tool

Keenan was concerned over attacks being made on the collective bargaining system which he described as a necessary tool for both management and labor to resolve their differences.

"I am especially concerned because much of the criticism, although well meaning, is based on a lack of real understanding of what is involved," Keenan asserted.

"There is talk of a strike, and we hear charges that collective bargaining has broken down," he continued. "There are demands for compulsion. This is like creating a sickness in order to prescribe a cure."

Keenan said collective bargaining has not broken down in the United States, it was far from being a failure and has worked remarkably well.

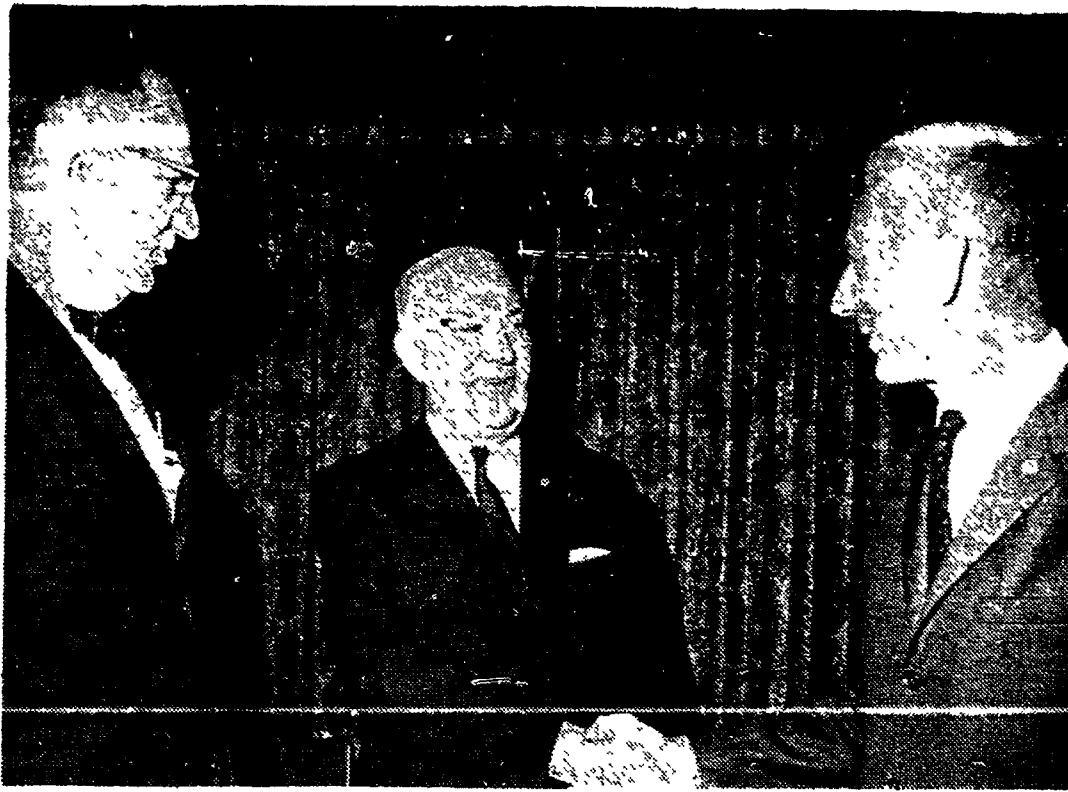

Conflicts of Interest

He recalled that conflicts of interest between labor and management have been numerous and deep, and often intense and of duration. The union leader said differences between the two would continue.

"They are basic to our free enterprise system," Keenan declared. "Because this is true, and because our economy demands an ever-increasing degree of team play, we must have a way to accommodate our differences."

Keenan said this has been sought through collective bargaining.

He reminded it wasn't until 1935 that workers gained the right to organize and bargain

The Forum Lecture series sponsored by the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce opened Friday with Joseph Keenan, international secretary, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Washington, D.C., as speaker. Service club members also attend the series. Firm to Build Warehouse For $50,000

A $50,000 warehouse addition is being built at the Circle Machinery and Supply Co., 230 S. Linwood Ave., Appleton.

Director of Inspections Charles Magnette announced Wednesday that building permit had been issued for a structure which will have 14,000 square feet of floor space. The firm started razing some old buildings on its property to make way for the new addition.

Magnette said a permit also was issued to the Appleton Marble and Granite Works, 918 N. Lawe St., to erect a new building on E. Wisconsin Avenue.

The building will be of masonry construction and measure 101 by 44 feet.

Once the firm relocates in its new building, it reportedly will sell the Lawe Street property to a nearby industry.

How to Help the Underachiever—6 Combatting Outside Interests

BY LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Lack of interest in studies is not CAUSED by strong interests in sports or cars but it sometimes works out the same way.

Some children are interested in many things: school, sports, reading — you name it — and are successful in everything they undertake.

Such children are a joy to their teachers and a source of pride to their parents. But when the interest in other things absorbs a student's attention to the detriment of his success in school, parents are rightfully concerned.

Compulsive outside interests take many forms — surfing, fishing, automobiles, sports, reading, or juvenile gang activity. Sometimes a single interest can so take up the time and thoughts of a boy or girl as to push school and learning almost entirely out of the picture.

Heavy Hand No Help

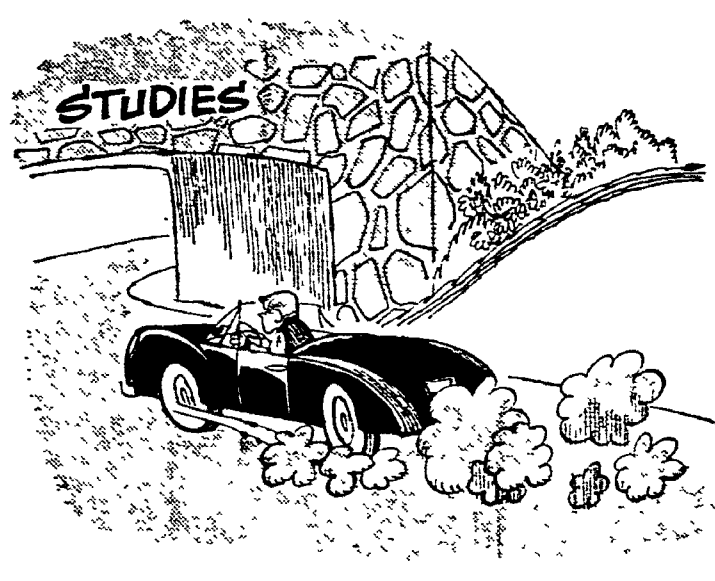

Restriction or complete prohibition of the offending activity, when combined with encouragement for better school success, sometimes brings results. But far more often it fails; in fact, it usually makes matters worse.

Schoolwork comes to be looked upon by the student as punishment and, as such, is resisted — sometimes violently. The person who attempts to resolve this problem must strive for a better balance rather than a revolution.

Plans must be worked out with the cooperation of the teenager himself. My approach has been to discuss the theory of interest with both the parents and the student. I point out that it is quite natural for any person to enjoy thinking about the things about which they know a lot. They do the things they can do skillfully rather than force themselves into thoughts and actions which bring less enjoyment.

Parents need to realize that the complete elimination of one set of activities is no guaranty that the desired activities will fill the released time.

I offer to plan with the student his pattern of living and make it more acceptable to his parents. I point out that life will be more enjoyable to him as well. School is essential not only to his present life but to his success in the future.

Teachers Soon Notice

A plan is worked out between the student and myself in which he learns to organize and study his courses more efficiently. He agrees to make a concerted effort to build up a background of knowledge in each of his school subjects. I assure him that as he learns more about any subject the less effort it will take to study it.

We discuss the idea that his parents can be of real assistance to him in this endeavor through regulation, encouragement and occasional reminders. I show a continuing interest in the details of his progress toward becoming an interested student.

Although the teachers have not been apprised of the program nor asked to cooperate they are quick to lend encouragement. In most every case the boy or girl has reported to me within the first week or ten days that some teacher has noticed, and has been pleased that as he learns more about with, his change of attitude. National Speaker Praises State Alcoholism Committee

MADISON — Cooperation between state and local agencies will grow naturally and rapidly towards a common goal, the elimination and prevention of alcoholism, William Ferguson, field representative for The National Council on Alcoholism, New York City, told the Board of Public Welfare's Advisory Committee here Wednesday.

"Wisconsin is to be commended for the step it has taken in the establishment of alcoholism services, within the Division of Mental Hygiene," Ferguson said.

"The establishment of an alcoholism education division within the extension department of the University of Wisconsin, is unparalleled in the country, and there is strong evidence everywhere of cooperation at the local level, where it matters," he emphasized.

More Cooperating

"Our objectives are being closely brought together to do the greatest amount of good with our resources," he said. "What I really mean is that we will be getting the full benefit of each dollar."

The role of voluntary agencies is changing and today the federal and state governments are doing a great deal in pioneering approaches, he said. Private agencies are using more and more government funds and public agencies are using more voluntary workers.

Bills seeking federal funds for alcoholism were introduced in both house of the 89th Congress. The Moss-Hagen Bill (now S-3089 and HR-13724) proposes a five-year $214 million alcoholism program.

Bills Introduced

It would appear this bill has a good chance for passage in the next session of congress, Ferguson said.

Included in the provisions are: The establishment of an Alcoholism Control Administration within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; grants to state alcoholism programs on a 75 per cent federal and 25 per cent state basis over five years, with special provisions for states not conducting an alcoholism program.

Demonstration project grants with agencies, institutions or individuals; training project grants; training project grants to stimulate more effective use of existing facilities, and coordination at all levels to deal with alcoholism.

Voting for Sheriff Outagamie Feature

Veteran Policemen Marx, Main
Liven Ballot; Clerk Opposed

What probably will be a generally uninteresting election on the county level, due to the abbreviated list of Democratic candidates, could be livened by the contest for Outagamie County sheriff.

Undersheriff Norbert J. Marx, a Republican, will be opposed by Lt. Robert Main of the Kaukauna Police Department. Both men have conducted strong campaigns through personal contacts, information meetings and literature.

Marx, 53, and Main, 54, have long records of police service. Marx, undersheriff for Calvin L.

Spice (also a Kaukauna resident) since 1962, retired as a detective sergeant from the Appleton Police Department where he worked for 24 years.

Juvenile Officer

Main is a 30-year veteran of the Kaukauna Police Department where he has been juvenile officer the past 10 years.

Marx earned a berth in Tuesday's general election by registering a 67-vote win over Donald J. Heinritz of Appleton. Spice, who has served two consecutive terms as sheriff, is ineligible, under state law, to seek a third term this year.

The only other competition for a county office is for clerk. Mollie E. Pfeffer, seeking a sixth term, will be opposed by Genevieve Andersen, a Kaukauna Democrat.

Peter L. Berg, seeking his first full term as county treasurer, faces no opposition.

Unopposed Candidates

Also unopposed Tuesday are Coroner Bernard H. Kemps, Clerk of Courts Sydney M. Shannon, Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer, Register of Deeds Dominic P. Peeters and Surveyor Frank M. Charlesworth Jr. All are Republicans.

All three of the county's incumbent assemblymen face opposition Tuesday.

Harold V. Roehlich of Appleton, first district assemblyman, will be opposed by Ronald H. Steward, a Democrat, William Rogers, Second district Democrat from Kaukauna, will be opposed by Keith C. Van Vuren of Seymour, former publisher of a Seymour-Black Creek newspaper.

The third assembly district will find Ervin W. Conradt, incumbent Republican, will be opposed by Gordon Gorges of Black Creek.

"The advertising tape to which my opponent referred contained a direct, undoctored quote of President Johnson," Steiger said. He charged Race's accusations represent "another attempt to detract from the issues of this campaign." The campaign committee, Steiger asserted, had withdrawn the tape from use on radio stations before Race made his charges, after the committee decided the advertisement was "ineffective."

Steiger Says Quote Correct

NEENAH - MENASHA

Assemblyman William A. Steiger has issued another statement concerning use of a tape-recorded radio advertisement in his campaign for the Sixth District seat in Congress.

The tape was criticized Thursday by Steiger's opponent, Democratic Rep. John Race, Fond du Lac, who accused Steiger of using the recording of President Johnson's voice in a recent speech "out of context," and filed a complaint with the national Fair Practices Campaign Committee.

Steiger said his campaign committee refused to use a tape which Democrats had charged

Steiger Outpends Race in Sixth District Campaigning

NEENAH - MENASHA — Republican spending has more than double expenditures by Democrats in the Sixth District congressional campaign, reports from Madison show. But donations to the Republican treasury were slightly less than double the Democrat contributions.

According to reports filed with the secretary of state, Assemblyman William A. Steiger, Oshkosh Republican, and his campaign clubs and committees, spent $49,914 out of contributions totalling $50,889.

The incumbent Democrat, Rep. John Race, Fond du Lac, and his campaign groups, listed expenditures to $22,957 out of donations of $28,012.

Under state law, each candidate must report his contributions and expenditures twice, on the Tuesday before the election and again the Tuesday following.

Spokesmen for both camps said the initial figures should come close to the final totals to be filed after the election, as the chief expense of a campaign and spending in that area is usually committed well in advance of the final week of the campaign. Contributions, too, slow to a trickle as a campaign nears its climax.

The reports in Madison showed state Republicans spending of $384,782, compared with total Democratic spending of $198,864 on the campaigns.

Bergstrom Clears Site Work for $1.2 Million Waste Disposal Facility

Construction Will Begin Feb. 1 Pending Government Approval

NEENAH — Bergstrom Paper Company will begin site preparation this month at its downtown Neenah paper mill location for a combined water and waste treatment facility which is expected to cost $1.2 million before completion, the firm announced today.

Plans call for construction of the new facility to begin about Feb. 1, 1967, with completion scheduled for Sept. 1, 1967, contingent on government approval of the operation.

The new waste disposal facility will feature a circular Dorr-Oliver clarifier, 120 feet in diameter, which will provide greater efficiencies in Bergstrom's waste disposal system. All paper mill and deinking plant waste water will be fed into this clarifier where settling will be aided by a special polyelectrolyte coagulant, developed jointly by Bergstrom Paper and a chemical company.

Capable of handling eight million gallons of water a day, which is in excess of present requirements, the company said, the clarifier will permit solids to settle out of the water for a period of at least three hours.

From the new clarifier, the recovered solids will go to Bergstrom's present disposal plant where further water will be removed in compaction tanks and through the use of a vacuum filter.

The clarified water will be returned to Little Lake Butte des Morts at a concrete outfall where it will be mixed with a large flow of raw channel water at a high rate of speed to further aerate the effluent.

To be constructed on the same site and in conjunction with the waste disposal system, the new water treatment plant will be capable of handling Bergstrom's present and projected needs for clarifying incoming water used in the manufacturing process, according to the company.

It will consist of an Inflico Accelerator for initial settling of solids and Inflico Greenleaf filters for further filtration and cleaning of water borrowed by Bergstrom from the Neenah canal which flows out of Lake Winnebago.

Wittenberg Studies School Expansion

State Official Says Present Facilities Should be Discarded

WITTENBERG — The school board is studying a plan to expand high school facilities here to meet anticipated student enrollment.

Board members said the current enrollment of 366 students is well over the building's capacity. The expected expansion is being given high priority after a recommendation by former state school superintendent Angus Rothwell describing the 69-year-old structure as having "outlived its usefulness."

"The building is most inadequate in the areas of science, foreign language, library and shower and locker rooms, as well as adequate space for the administrative staff and guidance personnel," Rothwell said. "The present building cannot justify any district funds that would serve to perpetuate it."

"In the interest of safety and educational welfare of all concerned it should be discarded as soon as possible," he added.

The school board is studying a plan for addition of at least three classrooms and eventual replacement of seven rooms. The board has been studying the expansion since 1959.

Further consideration is also being given to the provision of two or three new rooms for Wittenberg Elementary School within the next year or two.

Though no definite expansion plans have yet been made, the board voted recently to "continue study toward a definite proposal to present to the district for construction of expanded high school facilities."

A $5,000 allocation has been made for study.

Screen Check Suggested for Manawa Well

Engineers Discuss Decreased Water Supply With Council

MANAWA — Engineering company representatives met Thursday with the city council to explain why water supply has decreased in one of the city wells.

The engineers explained that well production is sometimes reduced when screens get clogged and recommended that the screens be checked. The council previously had thought the only solution was to drill a third well.

After complaints of older boys taking bags of candy from the little Halloween trick-or-treaters were received, council members discussed a possible city-sponsored party for next year. No definite plans were made.

Fire Calls

Dean Clappes, secretary of the volunteer fire department, reported that the department has made a total of 58 runs this year at a total cost of $2,600. Included were 36 fire calls and 22 rescue runs.

The council no longer is considering the state retirement plan for city employees. No plan has been entered into at this time.

Future sessions will be in the meeting room of the new Sturm Library.

Waupaca Co. Votes Agent for Development

Will Coordinate Efforts to Push Industrial Growth

WAUPACA — A resource development agent to coordinate efforts for industrial development in Waupaca County and coordinate county applications for federal and state assistance is to be hired early in 1967.

The county board approved hiring the agent in a resolution passed at Friday's opening session of the fall term.

The county will pay a maximum $3,000 as its share of the agent's salary and up to $1,000 for expenses. The University of Wisconsin extension service will pay costs in excess of those approved by the county.

Carl Sturm, Manawa, board chairman said, "We (the education and agriculture committee) feel it would be a fine investment for the county. A resource development man has to be good and be able to coordinate county-wide efforts if he is to work out. No matter where an industry locates in the county, it is an advantage to the rest of the county."

Outline Duties
Duties of the agent would be to develop and promote resource development in Waupaca County, work with and give assistance to associations of commerce and industrial development groups, encourage industrial growth and coordinate these efforts in the county, the resolution states.

The agent is to be hired as soon as possible and will not assume his duties until after Jan. 2, 1967.

The board also approved a resolution paying sheriff's department deputies $1,202 for special assignment work performed during the year and raised the salary of the family court commissioner to $3,600 from $3,360.

Department reports were made by Frank Smith, veterans service officer; Mrs. Du Wayne Tanner, county nurse; Orin Stevenson, clerk of circuit court; and Lester E. Breier, register of deeds.

Scout Leaders To Launch New Fund Campaign

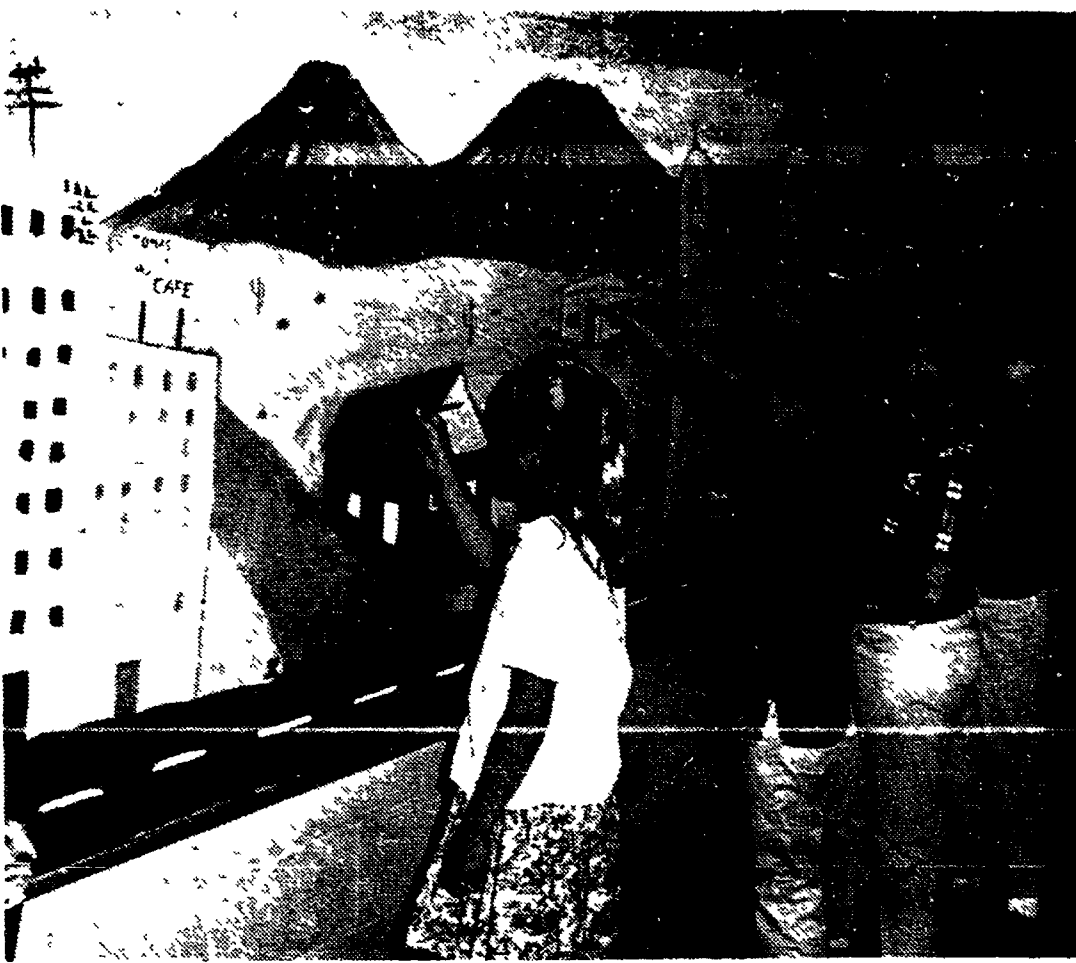

CLINTONVILLE — The North District of the Valley Boy Scouts Council will launch its 1966-67 enrollment on Monday.

Leading the drive will be Phillip Larnino who heads the special membership group and Burr Tolles, Henry Hankins and Charles Wolfli who are promoting the general membership.

The concept of the sustaining member is new. It is an effort by scouting leaders to increase financial support from Clintonville. Its purpose is to sell by personal contact selected individuals whose membership fee will help to support the program in a manner that past methods have failed to achieve.

The membership breakdown is major from $100 and up which will be handled by representatives from the Valley Council; the $25 to $100 special membership group and the general memberships from $10 to $25.

Scout leaders have been advised by the Clintonville United Fund officials not to wait for its formal program. Therefore, the Boy Scouts Council is going ahead on its own.

The levy would have been $446,237 if aldermen had not voted to reduce it by applying $24,000 from the general fund.

Estimated city expenditures and outlays were set at $313,147 which compares with the $295,104 estimated for 1966. An expected $214,647 in outside revenues will be applied, reducing the sum to be raised by property taxes to $98,499. This year $93,862 was raised for city use.

Proposed city expenses are general government, $43,400; protection of person and property, $49,064; health and sanitation, $15,460; streets and transportation, $50,700; education and recreation, $19,586.

Other expenditures include charity, $1,620; payments on long term loans, $67,457; development, $300; and $13,500 in unclassified expenses.

Outstanding indebtedness as of Dec. 31 of this year will amount to $263,700 in long term loans.

Rep. John Byrnes, R-Green Bay, received a plaque signifying his selection as "Man of the Year" by the national association of commuter airlines. The presentation was made Friday by Karl Baldwin, left, of Air Wisconsin, Appleton's commuter airline, as ground was broken for the new runway at Outagamie County airport. Byrnes' work to get FFA to change standards so airports with commuter service only could qualify for navigational aids was instrumental in his choice as man of the year. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Byrnes Turns First Earth for Runway

Commuter Award Presented in Ceremonies for 5,200-Foot Strip

The new 5,200 foot runway at Outagamie County Airport was officially started Friday afternoon when Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Green Bay, turned the traditional first shovel of earth.

Byrnes completed the opening ceremonies after being honored by the Association of Commuter Airlines (ACA) as the "commuter man of the year."

The Sixth District representative was instrumental in changing the standards for airport planning as prescribed by the Federal Aeronautics Administration, according to Karl Baldwin, Air Wisconsin president, who made the presentation on the apron of the present runway which will be used as a crosswind facility when the new strip is completed.

Federal Aid
The change in policy allowed airports with scheduled commuter and taxi services to receive aid from the federal government when installing navigational facilities.

Previously only airports having certified air line route operators were eligible for the federal aid.

The $1 million northeast to southwest runway is expected to be completed in mid-summer, according to William Pifer, chairman of the board.

Included in the project will be a taxiway which parallels the new runway. Another taxiway apron areas, a concrete apron in front of the new Air Wisconsin hangar and high intensity lighting for the new runway.

Ceremonies were attended by City of Appleton officials, mem-

UW Farm Seeks $8,000

Waupaca Supervisors Table Hancock Grant

WAUPACA — A resolution authorizing the expenditure of $8,000 as Waupaca County's share of a $120,000 building program at the Hancock Experimental Farm was unanimously tabled until the February meeting Friday at the county board's fall term.

Supervisors were unanimous in tabling the matter until they had more time to study it and see what the five other counties would do. They are being asked to contribute a total $40,000.

Donald R. Peterson, director of experimental farms, told the board that the help of counties was essential if the planned building was to become a shara and Portage Counties in reality. The funds would be used to construct a 4,500 square foot research education center at the Waushara County experimental farm.

Others Shares
Portage and Waushara counties are being asked to contribute $10,000 each; Waupaca County, $8,000; Juneau County, $6,000, and Adams and Marquette counties, $3,000 each.

Peterson said the university system would provide $60,000 toward the building and the remaining $20,000 would be obtained from growers and agriculture product suppliers. "Money available to the university from state taxes is limited and will be used for on-site construction at the various universities," Peterson said.

"Agriculture is suffering because funds are not being made available. All kinds of monies are available to other types of programs, but none for agriculture," Peterson said.

Peterson said the Hancock farm had made virtually no improvements in its facilities since 1940, except for a few small additions of pole buildings.

He said Waupaca County had 45,000 acres of sandy soil under cultivation at present and this ranked them third behind Waushara and Portage Counties in reality. "Land of $15 per acre a few years ago in the area has had its value increased 20 times or more during the past few years because of improved agriculture methods," Peterson said.

The construction project would add a 4,500 square foot building. It would contain a sample handling and preparation room, a chemical analysis room, crop storage rooms which would be temperature and humidity controlled, a meeting and study room and offices.

Presently products have to be sent to outside laboratories, mainly Madison, for chemical analysis, Peterson said.

Propose $73,500 for City Needs; Total Tax Rate Estimated at $34 Per $1,000

MARION — The 1967 city budget proposed at $73,500 and representing a tax rate of $5.48 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, will be presented to the public at the annual hearing at 7 p.m. Monday.

According to Melvin Schroeder, city clerk, the entire tax package will have a tax rate increase of less than $1 per $1,000. He said the city's share of county and state taxes is expected to remain the same as last year and the school rate is set at $23.62. The total rate last year was $33.67 per $1,000, this year the rate is expected to be $34 if the proposal is accepted, he said.

Estimated revenues totaling $52,500 will leave $21,500 to be raised by taxes for local purposes.

The 1967 request represents an increase of $7,812 over the actual first nine months of 1966 and the final three month estimate.

Largest single increase is requested in the highways proposal with $28,000, up $5,139 over 1967.

Charities, a new budget request is set at $500. A reserve deposit of $2,000 remains the same as 1967.

The 1967 budget request is $4,403 more than the 1966 actual and estimated expenditures.
